MEAT SUPPLIES LIMITED BUT BUYERS BALK

Evidence of Consumer Resistance to High Prices Mounts.

By The Associated Press

Only a small supply of fresh meat appeared in most of the nation's butcher shops today but already there were indications many customers weren't going to pay the higher prices being asked for steaks, pork chops, ham and other cuts.

Despite a flood of livestock into markets this week after removal of price controls, packers said that several more days would be needed to move even a "fair" supply of meat into retail outlets. But there was more meat in the country's butcher shops this weekend than for the last several weeks. And at much higher prices.

The American Meat Institute, representing the country's major packers, urged consumers to "shop around for the best buys" in meat and it appeared many housewives were heeding the advice.

From cities across the country came reports of buyers' resistance to the soaring prices asked for meat and in some instances dairy products. Ceiling prices on cattle had been $20.25 and on hogs $15.25. During the week the highest prices for cattle were a record $36 and $27.50 for hogs.

Reaction Varies

Reaction to $1.25 a pound steaks, 99-cent pork chops and 89 cent wieners ranged from "I'd starve before I'd pay that price" to remarks described by one market manager as "unprintable."

Some dealers, themselves, refused to buy meat, and in New Jersey the president of the state's Independent Butchers Association urged consumers to "strike" against meat purchases until prices come down "within reason."

The rush of meat to markets was reflected in falling butter prices in Washington, D. C. and Omaha, Neb. but in Helena, Mont. housewives instigated a chain telephone call movement advocating buyers' strikes against butter prices of 89 cents to $1.00 a pound.

American Housewives Face "Free" Market

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 — American housewives are now buying food on 90 per cent "free" market, the OPA estimated today, and their own thriftiness is the last barrier against runaway prices.

They are making headway in the fight against inflation, reports indicated. A downward trend in prices was noted in most food and commodity markets after a brief-lived tendency to reach for the skies.

In addition, many retail stores were advertising their intention to keep prices down as far as their costs permit.

Meanwhile, the OPA moved ahead in its program to junk a great majority of war-time curbs by Nov. 1—with the notable exception of those on rents, automobiles, refrigerators and building materials.

Too Busy To Broadcast

An OPA official said OPa Administrator Paul Porter and his aides were so busy that they decided not to make the usual weekly radio broadcast to the nation's housewives. It was the first time in 15 weeks that Porter had passed up his Saturday radio talk.

Other key developments in the decontrol picture included:

1. Wage controls appeared slated for early action. Secretary of the Interior Krug told reporters that President Truman and his cabinet considered the subject, among other things, at a 50-minute session yesterday.

No inkling was given of any decision, but presumably Mr. Truman and cabinet members discussed growing demands from some labor and business leaders for immediate action in freeing wages from control.

2. The price decontrol board announced a slash of about 50 per cent in its staff, leaving only a "skeleton force" to deal with rapidly ebbing business.

Not a single petition was pending before the board today.

20 CENT MILK REPORTED

Seek Decision in Plant Tieup

Hope for Early Metal Products Settlement; Not a Strike, Workers Say.

Settlement of a labor dispute at the Marion Metal Products Co. plant here had not been reached at noon today.

However, union and company officials indicated they were hopeful of reaching an agreement at a meeting of the two groups likely to be held this afternoon.

A meeting of Local 1281, International Association of Machinists, was held in Central Labor hall this morning. Following the session union representatives said they would arrange for a conference with company officials later today.

No Strike Vote Taken

Union representatives also said action of 250 union members Wednesday in leaving their jobs could not be termed a strike. They said it was merely a work stoppage brought about by the fact their contract which expired Sept. 1 had not been renewed and because of certain other controveries. No strike vote has been taken by the union, its representatives said.

The union men left work at 1 p. m. Wednesday when, they said, company representatives did not meet with the union committee regarding renewal of the contract.

Among other questions in controversy, a union committee named at the meeting this morning said, were failure of the company to settle grievances and to cooperate with the safety committee.

G. E. Herr, vice president and general manager, said this morning there was no further statement the company could make. "The situation is unchanged from yesterday when the plant closed because the men left their work Wednesday. We can say nothing more until we have had a meeting with the union," he said.

There was no activity at the plant today since it normally is closed on Saturday. There has been no picketing of the plant.

PITTSBURGH POWER STRIKE END SEEN

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 — An end to the power strike which has crippled the nation's 10th largest city for 26 days appeared possible as the leader of 3,200 independent unionists said he believed they would vote for arbitration of the dispute.

President George L. Mueller, of the Independent Association of Duquesne Light Employes, commenting on a general union membership meeting tomorrow, said: "It appears that the members will vote for arbitration."

Mueller was interviewed before he departed by plane for Washington to lay the union's case before Labor Secretary Lewis B. Schwellenbach. He will return in time for the membership meeting. He said his recommendations to the meeting would depend on:

"What I learn from Secretary Schwellenbach. I want to talk to him personally. I never predict the future or what the union will do, but it appears the members will vote for arbitration"

The membership meeting—first in three weeks—was scheduled for 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. Allegheny county Sherriff Walter C. Monaghan was named vote teller.

U. S. CHARGES TITO ENSLAVED 165 AMERICANS

Citizens of This Country Sent to Concentration Camps, State Dept. Says.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—The United States and Yugoslavia locked horns today in a bitter diplomatic debate over whether Tito's government has enslaved and caused the death of American citizens.

The state department charged Yugoslavia has thrown at least 165 into concentration camps, rented them out at forced labor without pay, shipped three to Russia, and permited maltreatment fatal to as many as 10.

The Yugoslav charge d'affaires in Washington promptly countered with a press statement declaring that "under Yugoslav law, which is the only relevant law in this matter" the persons concerned are Yugoslav citizens.

The statement denied flatly that any Americans are enslaved, or that slave labor conditions exist in Yugoslavia.

The controversy exploded with an American note delivered in Belgrade yesterday, which asserted that persons having "a valid claim" to American citizenship were being denied their international rights.

U. S. Furnishes Details

Enlarged on the note, government officials said the American embassy in Belgrade had furnished details on the slavery charge, adding the fact that those held were of German ancestry.

Dr. Sergeije Makledo, the Yugoslav charge d'affaires, asserted that "there are approximately 110,000 people of the German minority in Yugoslavia," and said this group included "those to whom the state department referred in its press release."

But these persons had belonged to the Yugoslav equivalent of the German-American Bund and had formed "Hitler's most effective fifth column in Yugoslavia," Makledo said.

He declared that many of them had joined the German army when it overran Yugoslavia and had formed the Prince Eugen division, "an SS outfit that was unequalled in the barbarity with which it slaughtered Yugoslav soldiers and civilians alike."

Served In Gestapo

"Others served as Gestapo agents," he said.

Many claiming American citizenship under the laws of this country, were born in Yugoslavia, returned there "during the depression when they were unable to find work in America," and never gave up Yugoslav citizenship, Makledo added.

Makledo said Yugoslavia had asked American aid in speeding

GENERAL KILLED IN JET PLANE CRASH

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Oct. 19 — Officials at Air Materiel Command headquarters, Wright Field, today announced that Brig. Gen. Mervin E. Gross, 46, commandant of the AAF Institute of Technology, was killed in a P-80 jet plane crash near Brooksville, Ky.

Gen. Gross, who was piloting the plane, was enroute from an air force base in the south to Wright Field at the time of the crash last night. Sheriff Tom Kinny of Brooksville said the speedy jet plane crashed and exploded on a ridge near the town a few seconds after roaring low over the area.

Gen. Gross utilized the P-80 "Shooting Star" on many of his trips to the various AAF educational institutions in connection with his duties as head of the Wright Field Institute. He was assigned as commandant of the Institute April 4, 1946.

During the war, Gen. Cross served as chief of the requirements division, AAF headquarters, Washington, where he was responsible for the delivering of all aircraft, aircraft accessories and organization equipment for the air force. He held this post from March, 1942, until December, 1944.

From December, 1944, until his return to the United States in December, 1945, Gen. Gross served as acting chief of staff for the United States forces in the China theater. For his wartime service he was awarded the Distinguished Service medal.

GEN. IKE FLIES HOME

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flew homeward by leisurely stages today after an inspection tour of the European theater. The chief of staff left Frankurt early yesterday after telling newsmen there that he was impressed with the "tremendous progress" made toward Allied occupation objectives.

Byrnes Charged With Aiding Chinese War

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19—Secretary Byrnes, even as he was expounding his European policy over the radio last night, was condemned by critics here for fostering civil war in China.

The critics of Byrnes' Asiatic policy, speaking at a conference on Far Eastern problems, demanded that American Marines be recalled from China and that the United States stop supporting the Chinese government in its war with the Chinese Communists.

Rep. Ellis E. Patterson (D-Cal) told 1,500 persons at the opening of the three-day conference that the continued presence of U. S. Marines in China was intervention because Japanese troops there had been disarmed.

BERLINERS TO VOTE SUNDAY

First Free Election in 14 Years Is Slated for Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Oct. 19 — More than 2,000,000 Berliners will cast their first free vote in 14 years tomorrow in a municipal election which is being watched closely by the Allied powers as a yardstick of German choice between the eastern and western concepts of democracy.

The election will be held under the precautionary vigilance of the four Allied occupying powers to ensure that the voting is secret and fair.

Lt. Col. Louis Glaser, chief of the Political Affairs branch of the American Military Government's Berlin district, said the election issue clearly was drawn between the east and the west.

This was particularly true, he said, because Berlin was the one German city where the citizens have experienced and been in a position to judge the different kinds of democracy and government for which the Allied powers stand.

The voting will be for party, not for individuals, and voters cannot "split" their ticket. Their choices will lie between four parties—Social Democratic; Socialist Unity (an amalgamation between the Communists and the Social Democrats in Russian-Occupied territory); the Christian Democratic union and the Liberal Democrats. Berliners have received assurances from the Allied kommandantur, composed of four Allied commandants of the city, that "in the eyes of the Allies all parties are equal."

Col. Frank L. Howley of Philadelphia, director of the American office of Military Government for Berlin, said in a statement to the German press today: "Tell all the people of Berlin that the days of the Ja (yes) vote and the days of intimidation are past."

HALIFAX PAPER SAYS STALIN TO VISIT U. S.

By The Associated Press

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 19—Quoting a "highly placed informant," the Halifax Chronicle said today that Premier Stalin may visit the United States and possibly Canada, early in November.

Although the report was without confirmation, the Chronicle said a suite aboard the liner Aquitania is to be prepared for the Russian premier and that he will be aboard the big ship on her next westward trip from Britain.

The Aquitania will proceed direct to New York from the United Kingdom on her next trip, reaching there about Nov. 5, the day after the Big Four foreign ministers are scheduled to open a conference.

An official of the Cunard White Star Line, the Aquitania's operators, said no passenger list was available here but that he understood some "special parties" were to be carried.

Byrnes Outlines "Patient But Firm" Policy Toward Russia

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—Secretary of State Byrnes pointed the United States along a "patient but firm" foreign policy course with Russia today, declaring that this country will neither yield to all demands of other nations nor expect them to yield to all of ours.

Voicing concern over "the continued if not increasing tension between us and the Soviet Union," Byrnes urged rejection of the thought that delays in achieving peace "make armed conflict inevitable."

"It is entirely possible," he said in a radio report last night on the Paris conference, "that the failure or inability of the Soviet leaders to rid themselves of that belief lies at the very root of our difficulties."

His address, obviously aimed at Moscow as well as his home audience, acknowledged Byrnes' distress over war talk which is "throttling the economic recovery of Europe," but affirmed his hope that a just peace can be attained without one-sided concessions.

Byrnes said this nation will stand "irrevocably" behind the "right of every people to organize their economic and political destiny through the freest possible expression of their collective will."

Goal Is Cooperation

He made it plain that his goal is cooperation with the U.S.S.R.—but not continued concessions.

"We must be willing to cooperate with one another—veto or no veto—to defend, with force if necessary, the principles and purposes of the charter of the United Nations," he said.

An apparent reference to the debate which stormed up over Henry A. Wallace's criticism of the administration's policy toward Russia came in Byrnes' declaration:

"In following those policies we have been criticized at times for being too 'soft' and at times for being too 'tough'. I dislike both terms. Neither describes our earnest efforts to be patient but firm."

Wallace commented later: "After listening to the speech of the secretary of state I am more certain than ever that we must adopt a real American foreign policy. I am glad that he has progressed since his Stuttgart speech (warning that Germany must be neither 'pawn or partner' in any power struggle between east and west).

Hopes for Progress

"I sincerely hope that further progress will be made and that the secretary of state will eventually realize that the American people demand justice, good neighborliness and peace in the world."

Byrnes expressed "bewilderment" at Russian accusations that the United States "enriched itself during the war" and now seeks "to enslave Europe economically."

"Coming from any state these charges would be regrettable to us," he said.

"They are particularly regrettable when they are made by the Soviet government to which the advanced more than two billion dollars of lend lease during the war and with which we want to be friendly in these [illegible]

Key Nazi Spy Ring Figure Caught by FBI After 5 Years

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—Teodore Erdmann Erich Lau, 44-year-old German-born Argentine citizen described by the FBI as the key figure in a notorious German spy ring, was held by federal authorities today on espionage charges, climaxing a five-year hunt on three continents.

The FBI said last night, in announcing his arrest, that Lau was the paymaster of the Kurt Frederick Ludwig spy ring which the government said relayed sufficient information to Germany before it was uncovered in 1941 to account for the sinking of at least 12 Allied vessels.

Lau was arrested by federal agents Wednesday upon his arrival from Canada—his first visit to the United States since he fled in 1941, at which time he was known to government investigators only as the mysterious "Bill," whose name appeared on captured spy documents written in invisible ink.

Lau was arraigned yesterday before Federal Judge Simon Rifkind on th eespionage charges and bond was set at $50,000.

Nine members of the Ludwig spy ring, which planned to send to Germany information on convoy momevents, location of armaments and military information, were sentenced in March, 1942 to a total of 132 years in prison. Ludwig himself received 30 years, the maximum allowed by law.

TRUMAN TO FLY TO N. Y.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—[illegible] Truman will fly to New York next Wednesday to open the general assembly of the United Nations with a 20-minute address. He will return to Washington by train that night.

Association Shares in Drive Opening Monday.

Walk into the Marion Y.M.C.A. almost any time of day or evening and you'll find not one but often dozens of activities going on involving individuals, small groups and large groups. The participants range in age from youngsters to elderly persons, the activities include many kinds of athletic events, club programs, study groups and handicraft activities. Add to that the activities this organization sponsors at school grounds and other points in the city and you can begin to get an idea of how extensive the Y program really is.

The Y.M.C.A. is to receive $16,665 of this year's Community Fund goal of $67,190 to finance its activities for another 12 months.

Scope of Program

A complete list of Y activities is beyond recording in limited space, but a summary will furnish some idea of the scope of the program. There are 40 gym classes a week for boys, girls, men and women. There are 30 swimming classes a week for boys, girls and women. Weight lifting equipment is in daily use and instruction periods in weight lifting are held three times a week. Boxing instruction is given three times a week in the fall and winter, and the Y helps sponsor the Golden Gloves tournaments. St. Mary Parochial school's varsity basketball team practices at the Y regularly. The Y sponsors its own basketball leagues involving 170 boys on 17 teams and 485 men on 31 teams.

It sponsors a softball league involving 16 teams and 180 players, plus eight junior teams involving 96 players. It conducts touch football team activity at all Marion schools. It maintains facilities for handball and badminton contests and maintains the Vernon Heights tennis courts, sponsoring the annual citywide tennis tournament.

Under the heading of annual events also come foul shooting contests for boys and young men, the citywide marble and jacks tournaments, kite flying contest, bicycle meet, track and field meet and the Hi-Y relay.

At the close of each school year comes a "learn to swim"

EDWARD VII'S GIFTS AMONG STOLEN GEMS

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 19—Two rings given to the Duke of Windsor by his grandfather, King Edward VII, were among the jewelry stolen from the duke and duchess Wednesday night, police disclosed today.

A gold watch belonging to the duke also was stolen. The watch and rings were in the duchess' jewel case, which was discarded by the thieves on a golf course adjoining the Earl of Dudley's Ednam lodge.

House Plan Suggests Full Home Comforts at Minimum of Cost

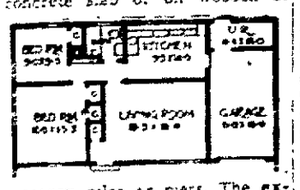
YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

by W. Wadsworth Wood

Housing Comfort at Minimum of Cost

The house illustrated was designed with the idea of providing full housing facilities at a minimum of cost. There is no attempt to simulate or copy any particular style of architecture.

The house is to be built on a concrete slab or on wooden or masonry piles or piers. The exterior is to be finished in whatever local supplies offer. It may be of wood siding, shingles, stucco, brick or local stone. The design will remain the same.



The important point is that the roof structure is absolutely rectangular, and without breaks, dormers, valleys, or any of the architectural features which add to the cost. The four walls are straight and rectangular without breaks, bays, or changes of direction. The dividing partitions in the interior of the house, are so arranged as to permit of unusually light roof construction, as they furnish supporting strength where it is most needed. The house has been cleverly engineered from a structural standpoint.

The livability of the house is quite evident from the plan. The living room is spacious, square and light. The one extravagance is the large picture window, and even this may be substituted for by three small standard sash for the present. The kitchen is large and all counters and fixtures are arranged along one side, so that the greater part of the room can serve as a dining area. There are two bedrooms. One is a double room, the other a single. Both are convenient to the bathroom, and both have ample closet space.

The garage has been arranged for under the same roof as the house for pure economy in building, and a door leads into it from the kitchen. The small utility room at the rear of the garage can be used for several purposes. If a heating plant is desired, there with shelves and racks. If it is to for storage space, it can be fitted with shelves and racks. If it is to be used for garden tools or for potting, it can have a small window in either wall.

In spite of the plain square design, this small house has good possibilities for expansion. An additional two-foot change in the pitch of the roof structure will present an unusually large attic, and the addition of two dormer windows in the rear of the roof will enable the owner to add two bedrooms and a bath at will.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

Stained Sink

Q: There is a stain in my bathroom sink that looks like rust. I am not sure what it is, but believe it may be from developing fixtures or from a garage preparation I have tried a cleanser, but the stain is getting brighter. Can you suggest any kind of solution to remove it?

A: Not knowing the nature of the stain I can only suggest you that you try a porcelain cleaning preparation, on general sale. An alternative would be to get a bleaching liquid at your drug store, and use this in a fairly weak solution. The stain might possibly come out by rubbing with a paste made by mixing a scratchless scouring powder with kerosene.

FUEL BILL CUT 20% BY STORM WINDOWS

There are many necessary reasons for planning to include storm windows in your home, says Practical Builder, Chicago.

They reduce the amount of cold air which leaks into the house as well as the amount of soot and dirt coming in. They increase the temperature of glass about 23 degrees. Ordinary single windows are about 18 degrees F. in zero weather, while the same with storm windows are about 41 degrees F. at zero, which reduces considerably the heat loss from the body to the glass. Condensation of moisture and formation of frost on glass surfaces are reduced by storm windows. The temperature of cool air moving down the window surface to the floor is increased several degrees, resulting in warmer floors. According to tests, the load on heating equipment is reduced 20 per cent when all windows are equipped with tight storm windows, which prolongs the life of the heating unit. Tests also show a 20 per cent saving in fuel when storm windows are used throughout the house.

Now available are combination screen and storm sash in wood or aluminum. The frame remains stationary, while the screens and sash are interchangeable. Each part can be easily transferred from the inside of the house.

In the colder northern climates storm windows should be installed in all windows if at all feasible, but are especially important in rooms hard to heat, rooms with north and west exposures, and rooms used most frequently.

Filler Urged For Better Paint Job

Wallboards differ in porosity, some kinds of wallboard being more porous than others. Oil paint applied to wallboard without first taking the precaution to seal the pores may sink in too much and necessitate additional coats of paint.

On the other hand, if the wallboard is first sealed with one of the sealer-filler undercoatings made by paint manufacturers for the purpose of providing a firm even foundation for the paint film, succeeding coats of paint should adhere and cover as well as would be the case on a hard surface.

Water mixed paints usually are self-sizing, and one, or if necessary, two coats of water mixed paints should be sufficient to cover wallboard satisfactorily.

Veterans' Housing Getting Most of Plumbing, Heating

More than 75 to 80 per cent of all plumbing and heating equipment currently being produced is going into the construction of housing for veterans.

This information has been given to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, national trade association, by C. Ray Davisson, deputy director of the Building Materials Division of the Civilian Production Administration.

Actually, the Bureau comments, the volume of plumbing and heating materials going into housing for veterans is even larger than 75 to 80 per cent because Mr. Davisson's figures do not take into consideration the materials which the plumbing and heating industries are supplying for emergency housing for veterans on university and college campuses. This is a recent development in veterans' housing for which no figures are yet available.

Thus the huge quantities of plumbing and heating materials going into veterans housing of all types explains why the non-veteran may often have to wait for soil pipe, a bath tub, a kitchen sink, a water closet, a boiler, a water heater, or many of the other items such as pipe, valves, and fittings required in plumbing and heating installations.

While the non-veteran who attempts to buy plumbing may have ascribed his difficulties to lack of production on the part of the industry, this is not the case, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Production of vitreous china plumbing fixtures today is greater than at any time in the history of the industry, according to the Bureau. Increased kiln capacity and improved manufacturing processes have enabled manufacturers to speed up production at a time when plumbing fixtures are in unprecedented demand.

Production of enameled cast iron plumbing fixtures is approaching the high point of prewar days.

PAPER BOOSTS PRICE

By The Associated Press

Nation's Rental Bill Reaches New High

According to the Department of Commerce, $12,800,000,000 was paid by the nation's renters to their landlords in 1944 — an all-time high, and one-third of the total national income for the year 1932.

Urban home renters paid $5,900,000,000 of this figure, while commercial tenants came second with $4,500,000,000 and farm renters third with $2,400,000,000. Uncle Sam paid $300,000,000 of the total — nearly nine times as much as federal expenditures for rents prior to 1940.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Sun Glasses

ORDINARILY, the doctor has little interest in fashion's fads and fancies, but he is definitely concerned about some of the modern fads, because he knows them to be decidely injurious.

One of such fads is the current craze for sun glasses. This may seem strange to the average reader because most people are under the impression that all dark glasses protect the eyes from sun glare, and hence, consider them not only as an aid to comfort but also to the health of the eyes. Others wear them because it is the style to do so or because they feel these "goggles" add something to their particular mystery and charm.

Whatever the reason for wearing sun glasses, the wrong kind can do a great deal of harm.

To understand why, you must first remember that sunlight is made up of a number of different kinds of rays—the visible, colored rays; and the invisible ones, called ultraviolet and infra-red rays. Ordinary sun glasses do nothing to strain out these invisible rays. Moreover, they definitely interfere with the eye's own mechanism which protects against these rays.

Usually, the amount of light admitted to the eye is controlled by the iris or pupil. It works very much like a camera shutter, opening wide when the light is dim and closing to a veritable pinpoint in bright sunlight.

Now see what happens when dark glasses are worn: By removing glare and visible light rays, they trick the iris into behaving exactly as it does under ordinary dim-light conditions. It opens wide and exposes all the sensitive, inside parts of the eye to the harmful, invisible rays against which the glasses offer no barrier.

Under the delusion that his eyes are protected, the wearer is likely to remain out in brilliant sunlight far longer than he could without glasses and hence the damage is multiplied.

Exposure of the eye for a very long time to the infra-red rays may actually cause a spot to be burned on the back part of the eyeball or retina. If sun glasses are to be worn, then, they should be the kind that take up or absorb the ultraviolet and infra-red rays. Such glasses are available.

Dr. Arno E. Towne, of New York University, asked a group of eye specialists about the advisability of wearing sun glasses. They agreed that these glasses should have lenses which are polished and ground and that they should be worn only while in the bright sun. Otherwise there may be some harm in the wearing of dark-colored glasses.

If you intend to wear such glasses you should consult with your physician before doing so. Those who work in the sun might well acquire protective glasses of the right sort, which the eye specialist will prescribe.

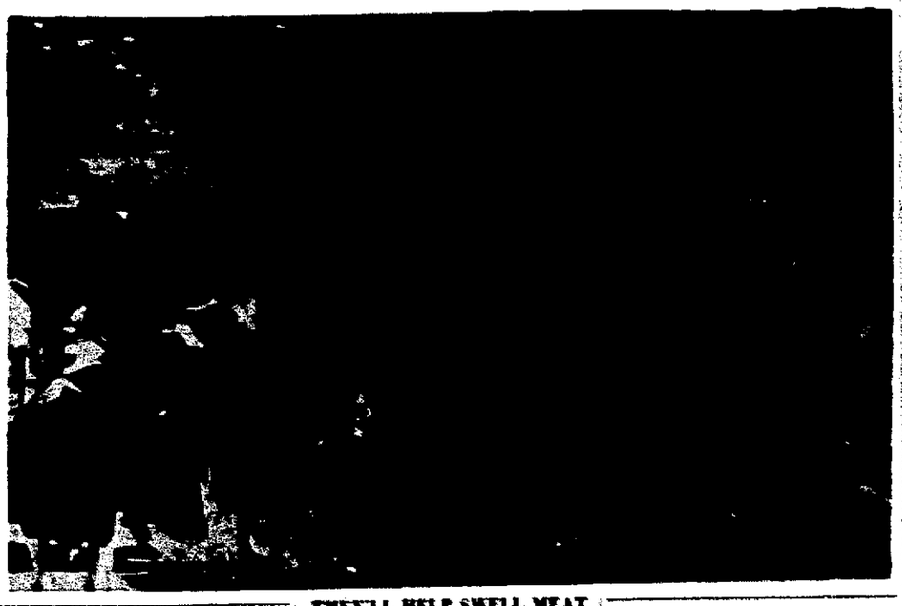
Galion Milk Raised to 20 Cents a Quart

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 19—Consumers of milk paid 20 cents a quart in Galion today. The price was hiked from 18 to 20 cents effective today. This was the second raise in milk during October. The first raise was effective Oct. 2 when the price was hiked from 17 to 18 cents.

The price was raised by Galion's five dealers who reported they found it necessary to pay producers a price comparable to that paid by Mansfield and Cleveland dairies who buy milk in this vicinity.

Coffee cream sells for 20 cents a half pint and other dairy products were raised accordingly.



NAMED FOR LOLOS. If U. S. fliers missing in southwest China mountains did fall into the hands of Lolo tribesmen, they are likely to escape harm—so believes Mrs. Alice Lolo Raines, shown in her Washington home. Mrs. Raines, wife of Philip Raines of the State Department, reports that her father, Fritz Weiss, former German diplomat, traveled in Lololand and found the natives so friendly that he named her Lolo.

Two Held at Kenton for Farm Breakin

Special to The Star

KENTON, Oct. 19 — Burlous A. Eibling of Kenton, and Harry Lansbaugh of Dunkirk were arraigned in the mayor's court Wednesday on a charge of breaking and entering a chicken house with intent to steal. Hearings for the men were deferred until next Wednesday.

Both men were placed under $1,000 bond and were remanded to the county jail. They had been apprehended previously by a representative of the Hardin county sheriff's office.

Also arraigned Wednesday was Pete Ettinger of Kenton, who faced a dual charge of intoxication and indecent exposure. Found guilty, he was fined $10 and costs on the intoxication charge and $25 and costs plus 15 days in the county jail on the charge of indecent exposure.

Auxiliary Officers Installed at Galion

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 19 — Mrs. George Miner of Medina, fifth district president of the American Legion auxiliary, was installing officer for the roster of new officers of the Galion auxiliary of Scarbrough post, Thursday night. Mrs. Charles Trachi is the new president. She received the charge from the outgoing president, Mrs. George Finney, during the evening's ceremonies.

Annual reports were given including a history of the auxiliary by Mrs. C. A. Ernst. Attractive refreshments were served at the close of the evening by a committee of which Mrs. Curtis Ness was chairman.

THEY'LL HELP SWELL MEAT SUPPLY. Mexican cowboys round up cattle across the border, south of Nogales, Ariz., for shipment to the United States, following the lifting of U. GOERING TOLD PLAN IN NOTE, ARMY SAYS

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Oct. 19—Hermann Goering in a last burst of braggadocio wrote a letter telling just how he purposed to commit suicide under the noses of his guards, a high source reported yesterday.

That informant said the letter, addressed to Col. B. C. Andrus, and two more found in his cell would be submitted, probably Monday, to the Allied control council in Berlin.

One of the letters, the source said, was addressed to the Reichsmarshal's widow, Emmy Goering, and the other was addressed to the German people, urging them to have courage.

Others besides Goering among the 10 doomed Nazi leaders had hoped to beat the gallows by suicide, a security official explained. Capt. Samuel Binder said that from Jan. 1 until the execution day guards 10 times had found prohibited articles in the cells of the condemned.

Goering told his wife in her last visit to the prison that he no longer had any of the poison with which he had hoped to cheat justice, the widow declared today. She said she did not know whether he really had the poison at the time, or whether he was afraid to tell her of it for fear she would cry out in surprise.

Prison officials theorized that Goering probably slipped his poison vial into his mouth while seated on the toilet in a corner of his cell the night of the executions.

Fiftieth Anniversary Observed at Crestline

Back to the Farm

Return of veterans to farms and migration of some city people to rural areas has reversed the population trend away from the farm, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports.

The bureau said that on July 1, 11,586,000 persons were working on farms in the United States, almost a half-million more than at the same time in 1945. Included in the group were almost a million discharged war veterans.

CHURCH NEAR SYCAMORE CELEBRATES 100TH YEAR

One Hundred Persons Attend Anniversary Program Sunday.

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE — The Mt. Zion United Brethren church west of Sycamore celebrated its one hundredth anniversary Sunday with an all day meeting and basket dinner attended by approximately 100.

The church was organized century ago when three members of the faith met in the cabin of Hiram Anderson south of where the church now stands. The first building was completed in 1854. This structure later burned and was replaced by the present brick building. In modernizing the church in 1926 a basement was dug and so undermined the south wall that it collapsed but it was replaced.

Rev. William Bevington was the pastor at the time of organization and the pastor at the time of dedication of present church was Rev. Doty. The present pastor is Rev. Herman Kear, who gave the address of the morning. In the afternoon Rev. J. W. Shock, retired, of Van Buren, pastor 38 years ago spoke.

Solos were sung by Joyce Riedel, Raymond Harter, Mrs. Leon Pennington and musical numbers were given by Imagayne Brown, on the piano, Mrs. Herman Kear on the marimba, the Mt. Zion junior trio and the Clark sisters. Readings were by Marilyn Hanover, Alice Coffman, Gene Coffman and Marie Reed. Mrs. Clifford Baum read the history of the church.

Pastors and former members were present from Tiffin, Van Buren, Wharton, Columbus, Deshler, Marietta, Findlay, Bucyrus, Kenton, Marion, Toledo, Republic, Bluffton, Fostoria, Troy, Upper Sandusky and Huntington, Ind.

Special Church Event Booked at Cardington

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON — A special service is planned for Sunday morning at the Church of the Nazarene here in which the evangelist, Rev. M. L. Garrett of Tennessee, will give his life story.

This story will be given Sunday morning in a combined service of the Sunday school and church at 9:30. Visitors invited. The special meetings which are in progress will close Sunday night. The Saturday night service will be dismissed because of the Youth for Christ service in the high school auditorium.

FLYING MUSICIANS. Opera singer Mona Paulee holds a wrench for husband Dean Holt as he works on an Army AT-6 plane they bought to make a concert tour. Holt will fly the plane and accompany his wife at the piano.

Bugs Over the Pacific

Trans-Pacific air travel has developed bugs. Nothing mechanical—simply the age-old problem of insect pests.

During the past year 15 new varieties of hitch-hiking insects have invaded Hawaii on planes from other regions of the Pacific. They are a threat to the sugar and pineapple crops.

Department of agriculture and Public Health Service officials are devising ways to meet the menace in Hawaii as well as the equally serious danger to agriculture on the mainland United States should new destructive insects gain a foothold.

In the old days the only way the bugs could colonize the great expanses of watered sugarcane fields and pineapple was by boat. The going was slow, and the insect mortality rate was high.

Now with virtually the entire Pacific area linked by fast and frequent air service—particularly by Army and Navy transport planes—the crop-devouring and disease - carrying insects that abound in the south Pacific islands move about easily.

All the usual control measures, such as fumigating planes, are being used, but are proving none too successful.

Too Much Gasoline in New Zealand

By The Associated Press

WELLINGTON, N. Z.—Abolition of gasoline rationing in New Zealand has had the unexpected effect of reducing gasoline consumption 1,000,000 gallons during the first two months of unrationed supplies. Chief reason is that during rationing all car owners bought all the gas to which they were entitled by coupon whether they were using it all or not. Now that supplies are not restricted they are using their stored gas and the service stations have been neglected.

"Aunt Jennie," 101 Observes Birthday In Bucyrus Home

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 19 — Mrs. Jennie Sells, who observed her one hundred first birthday Wednesday, is the proud possessor of a deep purple orchid, sent by the Tom Brenneman "Breakfast in Hollywood" radio program to the local centenarian.

Mrs. Sells, known as "Aunt Jennie" to her friends, spent the day in her room at the Scott rest home here where she enjoys a bit of reminiscence of early pioneer days when she traveled over the United States with her preacher husband.

Mrs. Sells quotes Scripture and poetry from memory and enjoys singing the old religious songs she and her husband used many years ago in their religious meetings.

Soy Bean Rival

President Truman's new "shopping" bag of pandanus leaves, the gift of Bikini natives, illustrates one of the many uses of a strange tree.

National Geographic Society says the pandanus supplies food, clothing and shelter. From Hawaii and the Marquesas Islands westward through Malaya to Madagascar, the trees thrive along island and continental shores. G. I.'s found them on remote, uninhabited Pacific islets, to which the fruit and its seed had been carried by warm currents across vast expanses of ocean.

The leaves sprout from the tips of trunks and branches in spiral arrangement, forming fanlike tufts. The fruits grow to football size and larger, turn scarlet when ripe, and resemble the pineapple in flavor and construction.

In the Marshall Islands, American troops saw sturdy pandanus trunks used as rafters, joists and posts in huts. They watched the natives split the leaves and weave them into mats used as roofing and beds. They saw pandanus-leaf sails which moved native canoes.

Service men chewed sweet juices from pandanus fruit rind and seeds—both staples of native diet. They saw the fruit baked, then pressed and scraped to yield a syrup. They saw the syrup dried in the sun and pressed into leathery 20-pound rolls for sea-voyage and famine-season use.

They saw "pandanus cabbage"—tender, young leaf shoots, eaten raw or cooked. They saw stout pandanus twine, made from tough leaf fibers, used to lash hut walls together, and to weave bags for corn and rice.

Veterans' Bonus

Voters in Maine and Michigan soon will decide in referendums whether their World War II veterans will receive state bonuses.

The Federation of Tax Administrator's reports that the Maine legislature approved a measure calling for bonuses of $150 to honorably discharged veterans who served at least three months between December 8, 1941 and August 14, 1945. To fiance the bonus, Maine legislators propose a $16,000,000 bond issue to be paid off within 10 years by added taxes on cigarets and liquor and a selective 3 per cent sales tax on admissions, toilet preparations, furs and luggage. The proposal will be passed on by voters Sept. 9, and if adopted will become effective Nov. 1.

Michigan voters, at the general election in November, will pass upon a measure that would allow bonuses up to $500 to World War II veterans depending upon the length of their service. A bond issue of $270,000,000 is proposed to finance the bonus; however, no provisions have been made to retire the bonds.

Gets Jobs for Boys

By The Associated Press

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — Patrolman Leslie Kittinger is proud of a 10-year record of sleuthing which never has nette da criminal. This sleuthing, aside from his regular duties, has found more than 500 part-time jobs for boys to enable them to attend school.

Kittinger, a native of Calhoun, Ky., says he took up his hobby because once he almost had to drop out of school for lack of money. He finally found a part-time job that enabled him to finish high school and business college.

Now W. M. Wooton, president of Lockyear's Business college, and C. C. Robinson, principal of Mechanic Arts High School, testify to the policeman's prowess in job-getting for the other fellow.

BOWLING SCORES

Jewell and Lorne tied for high single in the Universal Cooler league at Palace Recreation alleys Thursday night with 215 games but Hanovich's 201, 201, 179 gave him top series of 581. It was Hanovich's first effort in the Cooler league and his scores didn't help his team, since they were only used to establish an average. Three 120 games are what went into the score books. Koontz rolled a 205 game.

In the Huber league Gibson's 218 was high men's score, but it didn't stack up with Helen Engeroff's 220. She also had 151 and 149 games for a 520 high women's series. Thompson preserved the male honor by rolling a 564 series, which included a 216 game. Lyon posted a 210 single.

High women's scores were M. Thompson 184 and 180, Burkepile 167, Cook 167, Lantz 156 and 151, Lesser 149 and 146 and C. Gibson 156.

Stemmer was top man in the Craftsman league at Marion Recreation alleys with a sizzling 234 and 206 and 179 games for 619 high series. Other high scores were McFarland 204, Johnson 224, Peifer 213, Deposh 211, Snyder 205, Petrich 204, Buetum 202, Wolbert 202, Sharrock 204 and Shuler 201.

In Memory

★Of Russell A. Woods, who died three years ago Oct. 19.

Dearest Russell, how we miss you.
No one knows the pain you bore,
But we know that you have left us
to return, no, never more.
No more upon this earth we'll see
Your sweet and smiling face,
There is no one in this world
Who can take your place.
Now we must journey on without you
Though the day be long and sad,
Ever looking unto Jesus,
The best friend man ever had.
God takes our loved ones from our homes
But never from our hearts,
It is hard to say goodbye,
But we all must part.
Rest, dear Russell, your work is done,
And when the day of life is fled,
May we all meet up in heaven
Where no farewell tears are shed.

Mother, Father and Sister.

In Memory

★Of S1/c Richard Wesley Shields, who passed away Oct. 20, 1943.

"Where has he gone since yesterday,
And left us lonely here?
Tonight he seems so far away
Who yester-eve was near.
No map of ours on sea or land
That journeying may trace;
We only know he's reached his home
And seen his Father's face.
Oh dear, familiar yesterday!
Oh sad and strange today!
Yet who would call the glad soul
back
To rouse the resting clay?
Or who could wish that he might share
Our morrow's toil and strife,
Who, loosed from death and all its pains,
Has entered into life?"

Mr. and Mrs. Arnet Shields,
Mervin and Mary Jo.

"THE PRICE I PAID." Climax of a stormy protest by Toledo, O., veterans over the non-issuance of cab licenses came when Dale Barton, above, hoisted his artificial leg onto the city council table to show what the war had cost him. "Now I return to my home town to find that the city fathers want to deny me the right to make my living in my own way," Barton declared. The above scene came after a long smouldering dispute over the vets' attempt to offer "free" transportation after they were denied cab operating licenses.

Four members were reported ill.

In Loving Memory

★Of Walter Crum, who passed away one year ago today, Oct. 19, 1945.

Our eyes are dimmed with tear-drops,
Our hearts are torn with pain,
But fondest hopes still linger
That we shall meet again.
Stilled are his hands in slumber,
They lie upon his breast,
The task of his day is ended
In the dusk of a well earned rest.

At this time we wish to thank all the kind friends and neighbors who helped us in any way during the illness and at the time of death of our loved one. Such kindness will always be remembered.

Elizabeth Crum (wife)

Funeral Rites Set for Upper Resident

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 19—Private funeral services for Charles R. Brocklesby, 64, widely known Wyandot county resident who died Thursday evening, will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. from the Bringman & Co. funeral home in this city. Rev. Daniel F. Brose, pastor of Trinity Evangelical church will officiate. The Masonic lodge will have charge of committal services at Old Mission cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 p. m. Saturday until the hour of services.

Mr. Brocklesby was born at Caledonia July 19, 1882, the son of Levi and Ledia Rogers Brocklesby. Jan. 29, 1908, he was married in Upper Sandusky to Grace Bishop, who survives with two daughters and four sons, Mrs. Edythe Stebbins, of Galion; Mrs. Ethel Long, of Tucson, Arizona; Thomas, Albert, Charles Junior and Edward, all at home.

Also surviving are four grandchildren, a brother, Clarence D. Brocklesby of Delaware; a sister, Mrs. Harry Brown of North Lewisburg, O., and an uncle, T. B. Rogers of Upper Sandusky.

Mr. Brocklesby was a tinner and formerly was engaged in the contracting business. He was a member of the Warpole lodge, No. 176, F. and A. M.

The Library of Congress in Washington, D. C., was established in 1880.

Decision To Be Made on Bond Issue Voted for City Hospital

Fate of a $200,000 bond issue authorized by Marion voters in the general election in 1941, but on which bonds were never sold, will be discussed at a meeting of the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce next Wednesday noon in the Y.M.C.A. The law provides that if the bonds are not sold before Jan. 1, 1947, the issue will be dead and a new vote would be required.

Earl J. Andrews, chairman of the Chamber's civic affairs committee, said today committee members would decide at next Wednesday's meeting whether or not they would endorse a program to have the bonds issued before Jan. 1 or permit the issue to expire.

The bond issue was authorized for the specific purpose of constructing a fireproof addition to the hospital, but owing to wartime shortages, materials for the building could not be obtained and the bonds were never sold.

Three years ago the city received a federal grant of approximately $140,000 to which it added $35,000 and constructed a temporary one-story addition to the hospital paralleling Superior street.

City officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives have held several discussions on whether or not it is practicable to tear down the temporary structure and replace it with a new addition.

Nuernberg's Lesson

WHILE NUERNBERG [illegible] more on the need to learn [illegible] of them.

The [illegible] parallels have not remained long first in the news [illegible] the autumn of 1939. They began to resemble more at [illegible] 1933, and many factors, when they first came together in an organization called the National Socialist party.

Under the leadership of Adolf Hitler [illegible] gave the party its doctrine and ultimately gave it Germany as a laboratory for its grisly experiments in persecution, torture and mass murder. National Socialism excluded everything else in the Third Reich. There came into being, gradually but inexorably, a totalitarian system.

That was the way Hitler had planned it. His book "Mein Kampf" explains what motivated this man who destroyed Germany and almost ruined the world. It explains fully what lay behind his actions as dictator of Germany and would-be master of the world. Besides his hatred for Jews, which he apparently combined with a sex-tinged view to its usefulness in making him a marked man inside Germany, Hitler had one other major phobia.

He wrote about it at length in "Mein Kampf." It appeared and reappeared in everything he did and said in the years preceding the war. During the war itself it became even more of an obsession.

That phobia was Communism.

Everything that Hitler and his associates did was justifiable in their judgment on the ground they were fighting Communism. Riots, purges, deportations, concentration camps, terror and, later, mass murders, exiles, planned starvation of millions—war itself—these things were necessary parts of the campaign.

Hitler said and Germany believed that it had been called by destiny to stop Communism. At the climax of the war, Hitler spent the greater part of his time on the eastern front. He died in Berlin under Russian guns, with the bloodiest hands in history, the hatred and contempt of even his own countrymen and with a stigma that never can be removed. He had set no limits on himself or his followers. In the attempt to obliterate what he did not like, he created evils so great that the evils he was fighting were forgotten.

HISTORY NOW may be preparing to test America with the same Nemesis. The struggle to withstand Communism without being goaded into the violence that begets Communism may be transferring itself to the United States. Having proved that Germany could be ruined, the ideological furies now are stalking America.

There already are Americans who have lost so much patience in bickering with the nagging Communist minority that they are on the verge of violence. There are Americans who are tired of trying to put down Communism by debate and education and are ready to try night-riding, fists and fire. There are Americans being goaded into abandoning their heritage because their sensibilities have been manhandled by the shrewd insults of a tiny minority whose only hope lies in upsetting the poise of the people in a state whose sovereignty has a popular base.

Communism in the United States is not a native movement. It is treasonable in theory and application—little better than a fifth column. Everything in this country's power must be done to deal with organized Communism for what it is, a conspiracy to overthrow this government.

But, with Nuernberg in mind, everything must be done to make certain that American action against Communism does not fall into the hands of the Hitlers, or the kind of men who follow the Hitlers. The United States can deal with Communism as it has dealt, in its history, with other dangers—by free discussion and constitutional action. This direction is being taken. The conspiracy has been judged, located and is being tracked down by orderly methods.

IT IS A SIGN of the greatest importance that in this country, at the same time Communism elsewhere was leading to wholesale violence, the American people's indifference to Communist candidates was driving them off the ballot. That was the American way of dealing with a problem which cannot safely be handled any other way.

Communism never has had, does not have now, anything to offer Americans which can be compared with what they already have, or can have if the people—all the people—remain free.

Communism can exist only as a conspiracy, never as a choice. There is no reason to fear it here as long as government is vigilant, unless the fight against it should fall into the hands of men no better than Hitler and the street-fighters and alley murderers who paid the death penalty at Nuernberg.

A Look At 1947 Prospects

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

Painful Crash Seen if Prices Get Out of Hand.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 — For [illegible] the advance [illegible] inflation [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] no [illegible] The [illegible] to [illegible] the [illegible] point.

Since President Truman's [illegible] the meat [illegible] become a [illegible] the [illegible] it was [illegible] that the [illegible] might [illegible] June 1, 1947. [illegible] the many [illegible] are talking about [illegible] early spring of 1947. [illegible] really get out of [illegible] say the economists, [illegible] may be a painful [illegible] depression, although no [illegible] of 1929 is even [illegible] for the near future.

These gloomy forecasts are based on the [illegible] assumption [illegible] which was to [illegible] and purposes [illegible] Some officials summed up the general attitude when he remarked, "Harry Truman didn't [illegible] when he decontrolled meat. He just turned the [illegible] loose." The decontrol board when established [illegible] first and [illegible] now a mere form [illegible] and [illegible] It will no longer have anything to decontrol. The issue of decontrol of many products which started a nasty row between Price Administrator Paul Porter and board chairman Roy L. Thompson, has become a totally academic issue.

Dim Prospect

It can be quite safely predicted that no [illegible] will not be decontrolled. The board's basic function was originally to act as a high court of appeals to review petitions for price rises denied by Porter. It has not yet received a single petition. And as Porter is now expected to decontrol faster than manufacturers can dream up petitions, the decontrol board might just as well submit to the [illegible] fate of appendixes and get itself be excised from the body politic.

The only real hope among Washington's dwindling and beleaguered band of stabilizers is to keep some sort of control over rents, construction materials and a few manufacturers in really short supply. And even in this respect they are keeping their fingers crossed. Wilson Wyatt, the able housing administrator, has a remarkable reputation in Washington for maintaining a cheery smile and an undiminished enthusiasm in the face of the hammer blows of fortune. If he keeps on smiling now, he will have performed a miracle of optimism. For even a little more inflation will transform Wyatt's low-cost housing for veterans, already no more than a prayerful hope, into a distant and improbable dream.

How bad will the inflation be? That, according to the economists, is the central question. For if prices really push up decisively, the inevitable set-down will then be distinctly painful. There are hopeful elements in the situation. Production is beginning to get under way in volume in many sectors of the national economy. If incomes continue up, and the government's tax program is left untouched, the government will soon be draining off the market several billion dollars of consumer spending power.

Four "Ifs" To Consider

The economists say that a combination of four circumstances, all of them highly possible, might knock their gently hopeful forecast into a cocked hat. There are four ifs: (1) If all controls collapse beyond recall in a few weeks. (2) If another strike wave starts. (3) If business men, noting the constantly rising prices, decide to hold for a rise, and a feverish inventory boom results. (4) If the Republicans, in control of the house, happily cut the present high tax program to ribbons. All of these ifs together (and it will be noted that they are all interdependent) could [illegible] through the clouds. The inevitable collapse would then be really painful, if impermanent. And to this the nervousness which exists in the agriculture department about a sharp fall in the agricultural export market when the world harvests are in, and you have the makings of a pretty bleak 1947.

If the vast majority of political forecasters in Washington are correct, there will be a Republican majority almost certainly in the house, and quite possibly in the senate, while a well-intentioned but far from forceful Democratic president holds sway in the White House.

This prospect has caused many Republicans, and many conservative business men, to rub their hands in anticipatory glee. But if a Republican congress in these times proves itself actually capable of governing, under a Democratic administration, it will be a political miracle for which there is no precedent in American history. Many astute political observers foresee in the next two years a constitutional crisis of the first order. But short of a constitutional convention, obviously at present wholly impractical, no one seems to have the faintest idea what can really be done about it.

Just a Minute

By JACK TARVER

Some Hae Meat and Kinna Sleep

A nameless citizen in Newark, N. J., has offered five dressed steers to anyone finding him a place to live. And in Columbus, O., an apartment-hunting butcher advertises he will furnish meat indefinitely to a receptive landlord.

The renting game is literally in the midst of a bull market.

And heaven help the house-hunter without even a ham-hock.

Most of the transactions in today's real estate field seem to be carried on in a smokehouse.

Any day now I expect to pick up the paper and find a For Rent ad stipulating "No Dogs, Children or Vegetarians."

Meat has replaced money as a means of securing scarce items. Once it could even be done with flattery but now a rib-roast is worth ten thousand words.

The current trend has economists troubled. Negotiable wampers they can comprehend. But how do you go about devaluating a pork-chop?

Political Consequences

By RAYMOND MOLEY

IN ANY event, the President was provided plenty of meat for Republican speeches. It was a poor political speech. Apparently, he was trying to say that there are a lot of selfish people around and that he had finally decided to join them.

He proceeded methodically to pull the rugs from under most of those desperate Democrats who have, in various states, been trying to place the blame for the meat shortage. Some said that the missing meat was held by packers. The President said that the packers' cupboards were bare. Others talked of selling meat on the farms. This, Mr. Truman dismissed as impractical. Other Democrats demanded that Republican governors buy meat for the people of their states. This, by inference, the President also dismissed.

No Way To Win Votes

It was [illegible] to votes to call the [illegible] foolish. What did Mr. Truman expect farmers to do back in August, but to sell a few animals when a restoration of price control was advertised well in advance? Mr. Roosevelt used to talk about greedy people, but he never identified them. Mr. Truman is more specific. He has a whack or two for everybody—farmers, managers, industrial workers, Republicans and, indirectly, for Democrats as well.

It will be pointed out that in June and July the President fully supported the OPA's dire predictions of things to come under weakened price control. Three weeks without price control proved him to be a poor prophet. He wouldn't sign the first bill, although his own leaders in congress said it was workable. Then another bill came along, not quite so good, and he signed it.

Mr. Truman would have us believe that the great feature about the bill he did sign was the decontrol board; it was to be judicial, independent. But in his speech he announced the lifting of controls with not a word about the poor decontrol board. It is, then, exactly what some people thought it would be—an agent of the executive.

Spank for Taft

The President singled out Senator Taft for an extra spank when, in fact, Taft was largely responsible for the one blunder made by the Republicans which is now of help to Democrats. If Taft and others in July had simply permitted price control, except on rents, to die after the President's veto, whatever price rises that might have followed could have been attributed to White House stubbornness. Now the issue is not so clear. The meat shortage is due to those who participated in the OPA revival under the second bill, and Taft and others share the blame with the President.

In the main, the advantage still is with the Republicans, for the President has an unexpected capacity to blunder. He waited too long, and election day will arrive while tempers are still warm. And meat will be high and scarce. The Democratic panic, so clearly apparent in many states, will hardly be stopped by Mr. Truman's speech.

Crops on A-Bomb Soil

Light on Stalin Appeasement

By WALTER LIPPMANN

LET us take a look at the cry, now being strenuously circulated, that the Soviet expansion into Europe could have been prevented if President Roosevelt had not 'appeased' Stalin. Senator Taft has made this theory into official Republican party dogma by saying in his speech of Sept. 11 to the Ohio state Republican convention that—

President Roosevelt and President Truman at Tehran, at Yalta, at Potsdam and at Moscow pursued a policy of appeasing Russia which has sacrificed throughout eastern Europe and Asia the freedom of many nations and of millions of people.

Now President Roosevelt is dead, and Harry Hopkins is dead, and so they cannot give their own account of what they did and why they did it. But there were others at the conference when the agreements with Russia were made, notably Mr. Churchill and the British chiefs of staff, Admiral Leahy, Gen. Marshall and Admiral King, as well as Charles E. Bohlen, who is Byrnes' principal adviser on Russia. None of them has as yet suggested that the agreements with Stalin were dictated by Mr. Roosevelt personally, or that against their judgement and advice he appeased Russia.

Based on Necessity

Perhaps that is because they know what Taft does not know, or would like us to forget, that the Tehran agreements, which marked out the zones of influence, were built upon strategical war plans that were dictated by the military situation.

It is, therefore, useful to recall what was the military situation when this conference took place. I shall take the facts from the diary of Capt. Harry C. Butcher, who was naval aide to Gen. Eisenhower. On Jan. 29, 1944, which was shortly after the decisive conference at Tehran, he notes that 'The length of the front line in Russia as measured on the map is slightly more than 1,900 miles. . . . Our intelligence shows the Russians have 430 divisions and the Germans 200 plus on the Russian front." We were fighting in Italy; the great offensive into France was set to take place four months later. Mr. Roosevelt was commander in chief, and he was no less interested than was Gen. Eisenhower or the combined chiefs of staff in seeing to it that the 200-plus German divisions pinned down on the Russian front were not waiting for our troops on the beaches of Normandy.

For, as Capt. Butcher tells us in an entry on March 18, 1944, the estimate of land forces which would be available on May 31 for the landing were 19 British infantry divisions and 18 American. A month later six weeks before our landing, the intelligence services reported that the Germans had 386 divisions in Europe. Of these, 51 were in France and the Low Countries, 22 were in Italy, and about 255 were on the eastern front or in countries of eastern Europe.

When we hear men say that Roosevelt appeased Stalin in eastern Europe, let us be honest enough to remember what would have been the cost in British and American lives if the Red Army had not carried on its offensive which pinned down and chewed up about two-thirds of the German infantry divisions. That is what Mr. Taft has decided to forget. But he was not the president of the United States and the commander in chief responsible for winning a terrible war with the smallest expenditure of human life. Roosevelt was. His first consideration was to make sure that the Red Army would be attacking on the largest possible scale and would be advancing as deeply and swiftly as possible into German-held territory as Gen. Eisenhower launched the invasion of France.

Error Pointed Out

The inherent absurdity of Mr. Taft's view becomes plainer in Mr. William C. Bullitt's recent book. Mr. Bullitt shares Mr. Taft's views. But unlike Mr. Taft he attempts to argue the case, and in spelling it out, he spells out its absurdity.

The major premise of Mr. Bullitt's book is that we should not have given lend-lease aid to Russia unless Stalin gave us a written guaranty that he would accept the frontier of 1939 as his western boundary. "If we had obtained from Stalin," says Mr. Bullitt, "a written promise to keep his hands off Europe and he had respected it, all the world would have gained. If he had given such a promise with the intention of breaking it ultimately, he would at least have had to behave as if he had no intention of breaking it so long as he and his country were dependend for their lives on aid from the United States."

But that is just what happened. Mr. Roosevelt did get a written guaranty right after Pearl Harbor when Russia, which was then fighting for its life, subscribed to the United Nations declaration and the Atlantic Charter. And Stalin did behave as if he intended to abide by his promise until in 1943, before Tehran, when the Russians were no longer fighting for their lives, and when we faced the awful ordeal of the invasion of Europe.

The real question, which Mr. Bullitt ignores entirely, is whether given the military situation in 1943-1944, when Russia had saved herself and we still had the hardest fighting ahead of us, when we were in Italy but not yet in France—whether then Roosevelt and Churchill should have insisted that Stalin abide by his promises under the Atlantic Charter or be denied lend-lease. Should they at that time have had a

Letter to the President From a Horse

DEAR [illegible] President: Know who I [illegible] make the greatest radio speech in h[illegible] [illegible] with your number one [illegible] [illegible] Me Know When It All Happened" [illegible] other night in that Fireside Chat.

I was a nervous wreck. I was low and [illegible] I was on my last legs. I had spots [illegible] my eyes [illegible] couldn't sleep nights. What is [illegible] I didn't care sleep days. Then a friend of [illegible] told me you were going on the radio. I took [illegible] as recommended, and I am now another [illegible]

Ten minutes before you made that speech [illegible] would not have wished to be a new horse. [illegible] thought would as I heard me. Being one [illegible] was enough. Even half a horse was pretty [illegible]

Well, Harry, no matter what the Republicans say about you, you are my choice for president, and I hope you get four terms. Nobody ever did me as a favor, a greater favor. While I am not an official spokesman for the horses of America, some of my best friends are horses and I get around enough to know how they feel. You [illegible] and restored them right back from the brink of the asbestos.

Yes sir, Mister President, the horses of the country were standing around in the deepest gloom, with no hope anywhere, and thinking the worst yet to come, when you went on the air with the last minute pardon. They were in the sad-eyed groups in livery stables, barns, carnivals, rodeos, corrals and even race tracks saying, "It may be next." The one thought in their minds, Harry, was how they had been double-crossed. All through American history the horse had been glorified. Great horse stories had been written about them, and great poems, and great pictures. And all of a sudden "Black Beauty" was just another Hamburger. "Smokey" was merely another dish of meat. Sysonby, Whirlaway, Man O' War and even Stymie might turn up anywhere with French fried potatoes and succotash. Horses had suddenly been switched from song and story to slaughter house and table D'Hote dinners. Human beings, who had always thrilled at pictures of Phil Sheridan on his famous charger, could now look at an oil painting of them and think, "Suppose we eat the bottom one."

Then, like a bolt from the blue, you went on the radio and rescued us. Lincoln freed the slaves, Mister President, but Truman freed the skinners, and our only regret is that we cannot vote. To me and mine you stand as the number one liberator of all time.

I forgive you for being a little late. After all, a single minute can mean the difference between a horse and a meatball.

Again, let me say yours was the greatest radio speech a horse ever listened to, and all the horses of this great country are behind you from now on.

Yours gratefully,
HARRY THE HORSE.

Ima Dodo was disappointed by the President's speech. "Something must of been wrong with my radio," she said today, "Not a porkchop came out."

The Republican Party demanded radio time to reply to Mr. Truman on the ground that Baloney should be distributed impartially.

Maybe, in lifting meat controls, the President was just determined to stop horsing around.

Goering could have ended it all by letting his decorations fall on him.

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: The complaint I want to get off my chest this time is about places that pretend to take care of people who want something to eat.

I ran into some of these last summer on our vacation trip, dismal dumps that had no more idea of serving food than a second-rate zoo. On several occasions I risked my life by nibbling suspiciously at some of the dirty-hand sandwiches and stump-water beverages they sold me, and which I wouldn't have accepted as a gift if I hadn't been starving at the time. But last weekend I walked into something just as bad without needing to go on a vacation.

We were having a little meeting of the lodge over at the county seat and I made arrangements to stay all night because I figured some of the boys would want to stay up late and I don't care for after-dark driving. Next morning I set out to get me a bite of breakfast. But suspicious as a matter of policy of what they do to you if you don't look sharp, I passed up the hotel coffee "shoppee" and began to case the greasy spoons with a view to finding something in the mutilated egg line.

On the corner I spied a sign which said something like Harry's Grill, so I headed for it. I noticed the air inside was a trifle dank and the furniture a little out of the ordinary for a culinary filling station, but just like I'd been used in such places for years I proceeded to order me some eggs and maybe a slice or two of ham on the side, some dry toast and coffee. The character behind the counter gulped and when I finally got the key to the language he was speaking I learned I could have anything from straight gin to an absinthe frappe but what made me think I could have breakfast?

The next sign said Lunch-Beer, which left me a squeamish that early in the day, but I was at the point where a cup of coffee would make a lot of difference. I might as well have asked for a slug of nectar. Only beer, bud. Well, then what about lunch? OK, if I wanted to drink beer I could have breakfast beer, lunch beer, dinner beer, and I could have pretzels. I took one look and was on my way. You get the idea. I finally cornered breakfast at Joe's place. The sign said Ladies. The eggs were 20 cents apiece, which made me wonder what it would feel like to [illegible] but at least they didn't come in a glass.

I think we were better off when we called things by their right names. In the old days when a customer stepped into a saloon for breakfast, the cards were on the table and he wanted his breakfast in a glass with a [illegible] in it. Neither he, nor the barkeeper, nor the people who watched him go in and out had any [illegible] about him being in there for a bowl of cereal. In short, as a character once said, "The law is an ass," to which I would add in my humble way that the public is an ass for putting up with it.

Your aunt sends her love and says to be sure to feed your kids lots of [illegible] medium-rare. She thinks it sure is [illegible] are equipped with vitamins to keep them happy during the meat shortage and what [illegible] if our master-minds planned it this way.

$10,000 Bibles

By The Associated Press

LONDON—The first edition of the printed English Bible known as Coverdale's Version, published in 1535, and the Great "HE" Bible sold for $10,000 each at Sotheby's.

PROCRASTINATING

Most of us are so constituted that we can never be satisfied about pending problems until they are solved. The "do it tomorrow" attitude has been the curse of many well intentioned families who find themselves without the needed burial plot.

Investigate Our Before Need Plan and see for yourselves how modest is the cost and convenient the payment plan.

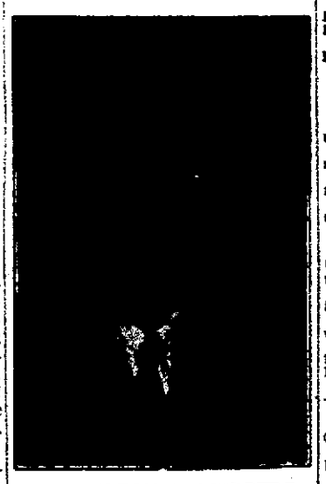
Chicago Minister To Preach Here



REV. MILTON B. LINDBERG

Rev. Milton B. Lindberg, above, of the Chicago Hebrew mission will conduct a Jewish Missionary conference in the Emanuel Baptist church, North Main and Fairview streets, Sunday through Wednesday. Rev. Lindberg was formerly of the Holy land and will show colored slides of Palestine, Sunday morning, the subject will be a prophetic exposition entitled, "Jacob in the Grip of the Almighty." On Sunday evening the subject will be, "Prophecies Already Fulfilled in Palestine;" Monday night, "The Zionist Movement and the Coming Messiah;" Tuesday, "Russia of Today in the Light of Ezekiel's Prophecy;" and Wednesday, "Israel's Glorious Future and Jerusalem, the Throne of the Lord." Each message will be illustrated with slides.

Mrs. Lindberg will accompany her husband and will take part in the services. She will teach the Maranatha Bible class Sunday morning, and will help with the music in the services.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services, Dr. C. E. Hershey, pastor, announced.

WHY BE SILENT ABOUT FUNERAL COSTS?
Primarily because it seems unfeeling to talk about prices of funerals in time of sorrow, most people NEVER mention the cost of last rites.
As a result of this, many people incur unnecessary expenses. And so we invite you to visit us now, before grief visits your home—while you can exercise calm reason.
Regardless of price, you'll find all our services COMPLETE.

MRS. J. C. TURNER, principal at the Oakland school before her marriage last summer, was honored when teachers who were on her staff at various times and the present school personnel entertained with a dinner last evening at Ringer's Inn. The group of more than 30 included a number of out-of-town guests and teachers now at other buildings in the city. Mrs. Turner was presented a gift from the group and a gift also was presented to Miss Caroline Dewar, a member of the Oakland staff who retired at the close of the term last spring. Games provided entertainment for the evening.

From out of the city were Mrs. Ruth Biddle Kennedy of Martel, Miss Dewar, Mrs. Margaret Kelly Martin of Mt. Victory, Mrs. Ruth Spicer Lepp of Mt. Gilead, Miss Loretta Gilmore of Dayton and Miss Vivian Pessell of Bowling Green and former teachers from the city included Mrs. Mary Cook Michel, Mrs. Sara Howser, Mrs. Martha Perry, Mrs. Irene Clark and Mrs. Mary Fisher. Former teachers now at other buildings were Miss Clara Gillan, Miss Bernice Guthery, Miss Ruth Turner, Paul Bingman, Mrs. Bingman was a guest. Teachers who have been at the school in previous terms also took this occasion to honor the members who joined the staff this year. The latter included Miss Violet McBride, principal, Mrs. Marjorie Hoffman, Mrs. Ola Moore, Miss Virginia McClure and Mrs. Mae Kinney. Completing the present staff are Miss Estella Myers, Miss Wanda McManan, Miss Marguerite Howser, Miss Rhea King, Miss Catherine Thew, Miss Adda Wish, Mrs. Sarah Jones, Mrs. Mabel Mathews and Mrs. Elizabeth Slack.

Greetings were received from former members of the school staff who were unable to attend. The group included Mrs. Mabel Balmer Throgmartin of Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. Geneva Spence Kennedy of Mt. Victory, Miss Florence McColly of Detroit, Miss Dora Hardy of Cleveland, Mrs. Pearl Foos of Harpster, Mrs. Eleanor Magiott of Dearborn, Mich. and Miss Gladys Edelman of Marion.

ACTIVE associate members joined members of Gamma Mu chapter, Delta Theta Tau sorority at Detrick's Inn Tuesday evening for the annual observance of National Founder's Day. Serving on the hostess committee were Mrs. Earl McWherter, chairman, Mrs. Fred Kempton, Mrs. A. E. Morrison, Mrs. Carl Sheene and Miss Ruth Bonen. Contest awards were won by Mrs. Leonard Bechtel and Mrs. Robert Shoemaker. A white elephant sale, with Mrs. John Pickerel as the auctioneer, was a highlight of the evening's entertainment. Assisting were Mrs. A. E. Morrison, Mrs. Jack Bray and Mrs. Robert Shively.

Guests included Mrs. William Howison, Mrs. James Combs, Mrs. Kenneth Tobin, Mrs. Rodney Cox, Mrs. Warren Rowley, Mrs. Ray Sutton, Mrs. Johnson Myers, Mrs. George Wolgamot, Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. Robert Middleton, Mrs. Bovie Morgan, Mrs. Leonard Bechtel, Mrs. Viola Rinnert, Mrs. Dorothy Sparks, Miss Virginia Wilson and Miss Magdalene Muntsinger.

House and Garden Unit Meeting at Federation Home

OFFICERS were announced and chairmen named for 1947 at a combined business, program and social meeting of the House and Garden unit of the Marion Garden club yesterday afternoon at the Federation Home. The members met for a dessert luncheon at 1:30 o'clock, and later Mrs. Carl Danner, president, presided for a business session.

Mrs. Danner will serve as president of the unit next year it was announced, and serving with her will be the following officers: Mrs. J. F. Neidhart, vice president; Mrs. Paul Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Hoch, corresponding secretary; Mrs. O. G. Stephenson, treasurer. Mrs. George E. Planck was named program chairman; Mrs. W. C. Haldeman, exhibits; Miss Mabel Wheatley, civic; Mrs. O. D. Anderson, press; Mrs. R. A. Anderson, finance; Mrs. Roy Mullett, membership; Mrs. Fred Hoch, field trips; Mrs. C. L. Rutherford, radio; Mrs. Charles H. Rinehart, club house treasurer.

Plans were made to cooperate in the federation's observance of national book week on Nov. 12, and the following committee was named to work with representatives of clubs in the federation for the event: Mrs. W. C. Haldeman, Miss Mabel Wheatley, Mrs. Charles H. Rinehart, Mrs. Lowell Gompf and Mrs. U. A. Nystrom. Reports given by the various chairmen included the announcement that the club had received eight first prizes of $1 each, and six second awards of 50 cents each on exhibits at the Marion county fair.

For the program hour in charge of Mrs. T. H. Sutherland, colored lantern slides were shown on the topic, "Some Good Plants You May Have Overlooked." The pictures were provided by Victor Rees and described by Mrs. Planck. Later there was an exchange of plants, bulbs and shrubs in charge of Mrs. B. R. Prichard and her committee.

Colorful fall flowers throughout the rooms provided an attractive setting for the meeting which closed the club's season until February. Arrangements for the social hour were in charge of Mrs. Harry J. Merchant, Mrs. O. C. Alspach, Mrs. E. H. Morgan, Mrs. B. R. Prichard, Mrs. J. J. Stafford, Mrs. Edson L. Bush and Mrs. C. J. Altmaier.

The Marion Garden club will be hostess for a district meeting to be held May 22, next year.

BURROUGHS CLUB TO MEET

W. L. Williams, Marion county farm planner, will be a guest speaker for the initial program meeting of the season for the Burroughs Nature Study club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Hal Barringer of Clover avenue. The program topic, "Conservation Trends," will be illustrated by Mr. Williams with slides and pictures and he will discuss conservation in Marion county. Program arrangements are in charge of Mrs. John H. Clark, Miss Grace Cunningham and Miss Alice Sneckenberger.

Romanian Resorters Taxed for Party Fund

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, Romania — Visitors to the seaside resort of Carmen Sylva got a surprise when the mayor declared a two-day fiesta to raise election funds for the government parties' Democratic bloc. A charge amounting to 40 per cent was added to the price of everything. Hotels and restaurants obliged. Druggists surcharged aspirins. At night lovers promenading on the cliff road had to pay tolls. Some 10,000 visitors thus contributed about $50,000 to government election funds. Opposition-party pleasure seekers were not amused.

Mackenzie Says Big 3 Showdown on Peace Near

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

We are verging on several important international show-downs which at last may give us an answer to the paramount question of the day: Whether there is a point at which Russia would be willing to compromise on her program of expansion or whether she is bent on driving straight on, let happen what may.

DewittMackenzie

This crisis has been boiling up many months. It marks the arrival of the time when there must be an all-around spirit of "give" as well as "take" among the major allies if grave consequences are to be avoided. That, I take it, is the message between the lines of Secretary of State Byrnes' foreign policy broadcast last night.

Mr. Byrnes voiced concern over the "continued if not increasing tension between us and the Soviet Union," and made clear that while America won't expect other nations to yield to all of our demands, on the other hand she won't yield to all demands of other countries. Our policy is to be "patient but firm," and he urged rejection of the idea that delays in achieving peace "make armed conflict inevitable."

That's the over-all picture. Specifically the Big Three are up against several major problems which will put the acid test on their relationships. One of these lies in Moscow's twice stated demand on Turkey for joint defense of the Dardanelles — a proposal which Ankara now has rejected flatly.

Vital for Russia

This is a vital question for the Soviet Union, for these strategic straits give egress from the otherwise land-locked Black Sea to the Mediterranean and thus are by way of being Russias' front gate. Moscow has warned Turkey against taking military measures in the waterway "jointly with some not Black Sea powers." This obviously was aimed at Britain and the United States. Indeed on Oct. 9 Washington delivered a note to Moscow, reiterating America's opposition to the Russian proposal and advising that Uncle Sam doesn't intend to be squeezed out of a voice in control of the straits. Turkey is being backed in her stand not only by the United States but by Britain.

2nd Phase Near

Another phase of the crisis will arise in the forthcoming meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in New York to approve (or disapprove) of the peace treaties adopted by the harassed Paris peace conference. Russia indicated at the conclusion of the parley in the French capital that she likely would kick over much of the work done there. The difference here marks the division between the Russian-dominated Slavic bloc and the Western Allies.

REPUBLICAN RALLY SET FOR MONDAY

Supper at 6:30 P. M. To Precede Meeting.

Marion county Republicans will hold a potluck supper and rally Monday night beginning at 6:30 p. m. in Republican headquarters on East Center street.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Marion county Republican club and the women's Republican club, Mrs. W. N. Harder, president of the women's club, will have charge of the meeting.

Congressman Frederick C. Smith and David Liggett, of Belle Center, Republican candidate for state senator, are expected to be present, along with Marion county Republican candidates.

the transfer of these persons back to Germany "as provided for in the Potsdam agreement," but "there were no replies to these requests."

U. S. government officials earlier had indicated that this country is not concerned only with the persons of German descent now in the Yugoslav camps.

Estimates Vary

They said estimates of the number of persons in Yugoslavia regarded by this country as American citizens run from 2,000 to 3,500. They estimated "80 to 90 per cent" would like to return to the United States.

These officials said they believed most of the persons claiming American citizenship in Yugoslavia are "in order" and would be eligible for United States passports if the Tito government gives them exit permits.

The new rift with Yugoslavia came before the United States had wiped the last one entirely off the books—the shooting down by Yugoslav fighters of two unarmed American transport planes in August with a loss of five lives.

Ohio Politicos Branch Out

Mines, Trees, Meat and White Collar Workers Discussed by Candidates.

By The Associated Press

Coal mines, trees, meat and the white collar worker were the subjects of Ohio political discussions last night.

Gov. Lausche, Democratic candidate for reelection next month, pledged himself in a radio broadcast to try again for more drastic strip mining laws.

Thomas J. Herbert, his Republican opponent, campaigning in Jackson county, assailed Lausche's administration as a "carbon copy of the New Deal."

Former Governor John W. Bricker, the Republican nominee for U. S. senator, in a speech at Toledo which completed a 15-county tour of the northwestern part of the state, said the white collar worker group had been the "forgotten men" of the New Deal.

Jack Kroll, who said he was speaking as head of the CIO political action committee, declared at a Cincinnati news conference that Bricker "still serves the interest of those selfish groups in America who seek to dragoon us into another depression."

Bricker, in his address said:

"The clerk, the bookkeeper, the school teacher, the stenographer, and pensioner and many others constituting the great middle class who work for salaries or have fixed incomes are suffering most from the current inflationary prices. They have suffered a reduction in living standards."

Kroll said Bricker called for elimination of ceilings on all prices and added:

"Today, thanks to Senator Taft and the Republican leaders, they have forced the administration to decontrol meat, but at what prices. The 'one meat ball' we get will be at the Republican prices, skyrocketing prices, which the average wage earner cannot afford to pay.

To which Senator Taft, Washington, Ind., said that "personal attacks on me by President Truman and Jack Kroll" prove they "are birds of a feather" and that they both are pleading the cause of the political action committee."

Neighbors Give House to Homeless Widow

By The Associated Press

CHERRY VALLEY, Ill.—Mrs. Rupert Baxter, a widow with six children, was notified she would have to move from the house she rented because it had been sold. She had no place to go.

Word of her plight spread swiftly through this village of 600 population. Citizens contributing $2,000 bought a lot and barn and converted the property into a new five-room residence for her.

The secret of the tone of Stradivari and other old violins is believed to lie in the varnish.

Bucyrus Queen On 'Big Burma' Parades at Football Game

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 19—Something [illegible] was added Friday night when the Bucyrus high school home [illegible] queen, Miss Mary Arnold [illegible] presented to the football fans [illegible] the Crestline-Bucyrus game on [illegible] street field.

[illegible] Arnold, who is the daughter [illegible] Dr. and Mrs. D. G. Arnold, [illegible] her appearance on the football [illegible] old mounted on the back of "Big Burma" the Mills Brothers [illegible] elephant, which with other [illegible] animals is wintering at the [illegible]ford county fairgrounds.

The elephant wore its circus [illegible]ngs and stepped lively as the Bucyrus high school band [illegible] for the processional.

[illegible] Arnold was attended by [illegible] Madonna Haala and Flor[illegible] Murphy, runners-up in the [illegible] vote for queen.

OHIO JOINS BATTLE ON SMOKE NUISANCE

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, O.—The major [illegible] of industrial Ohio have [illegible] the battle lines for an all-[illegible] against smoke.

Columbus, Cincinnati and [illegible]land all have adopted anti-[illegible]smoke ordinances and city offi[illegible]s are ready to go into action [illegible] violators.

Columbus' new smoke control [illegible]nance will go into effect Nov. [illegible] smoke inspectors will make [illegible]ests. Penalties for violation [illegible] provisions of the ordinance [illegible] any regulations set up by the [illegible] control inspector are $10 to [illegible] the first offense, $25 to [illegible] for the second offense, and [illegible] $200 for any offense there-[illegible].

The Ringleman chart of the [illegible] Bureau of Mines will be [illegible] to measure density of black-[illegible]s of smoke. Any smoke of [illegible]made No. 2 or darker, as deter-[illegible]mined by the chart, will be con-[illegible]sidered a nuisance.

Cincinnati and Cleveland [illegible]adopted smoke control ordinances [illegible] this year. Officials of [illegible]ese two cities have completed [illegible] "education" campaign and [illegible]now are ready to "crack down" on [illegible]violators.

The major tests of the ordinances in the three Ohio cities will come this winter when smoke begins pouring from virtually every furnace in every coal-burning building and private home.

showdown about the Russian boundary, saying that it must be that of August, 1939, and that they would stop lend-lease aid if Stalin did not submit?

Mr. Taft and Mr. Bullitt are bold men indeed if they think they would have taken that risk, that they would have forced the Russians to stay out of Europe at the moment when the lives of our men and the fortunes of war depended on making sure that the Red Army would advance into Europe. It does not seem to have occurred to Mr. Bullitt that if Stalin had been forced to agree to stop at the 1939 frontier, he might have stopped his armies when they reached it.

Reason for Fear

The fear that he might do just that was the nightmare of all those who were most expertly suspicious of Russia, that Stalin would indeed stop, and fight a phony war on the eastern front, and use the occasion to take a profitable hand in the Japanese war, and leave Britain and America to bleed themselves while dealing with the bulk of the German army.

Mr. Taft could refresh his memory on that point by asking Mr. Vandenberg whether he did not share that fear, whether he did not write a speech, which he almost delivered shortly before the Yalta conference, accusing Stalin of sitting down and letting us carry the burden of the ground fighting. For the very same people who now attack Roosevelt because he made sure that the Red Army would advance far into Europe, were in the period between Tehran and Yalta warning us that Stalin had made, or was about to make, a secret deal with the German army by which he would let the western powers expend themselves against Germany, and would then in the universal prostration, with his own armies intact and refreshed be able to impose his will wherever he chose.

What Mr. Taft and Mr. Bullitt forget is that Great Britain and the United States never had enough troops to defeat the German army. President Roosevelt knew that, he knew the importance of the Red army, and what they describe as his appeasement of Stalin was in fact an effort, dictated by our own military needs, to make sure that the Red army would play its immense and indispensable part.

Minister in Florida Summer Range Rider

By The Associated Press

DELRAY BEACH, Fla.—Rev. John R. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist church, still rides the range as he used to although he's given up breaking outlaw horses.

The 33-year-old minister, also a former lifeguard and Army polo player, occasionally takes part in rodeos, too, just for fun.

He is a native of Fort Pierce, Fla., schooled in Daytona Beach. He was a range rider for the United States government, working on a tick eradication program, from 1927 to 1929. He rode 10 to 13 hours a day, seven days a week, hunting cattle that hadn't been dipped. He started riding in rodeos and breaking horses, but then joined the Army for a three-year hitch and went to Fort Sill.

There he became Sgt. Martin and played on the enlisted men's polo team. He left the Army in 1936, entered a seminary at Fort Worth, Tex., and returned to Florida the next year after being married.

He still has cattle and horses in Volusia county and every year he goes back on the range for the summer roundup, always carrying a pistol because of snakes and panthers.

"The cowboys have a lot of fun with me," he says. "They like nothing better than to put cockleburs under my saddle just to see if I can still stay on my horse when he bucks."

Seagoing Trojan Horse Takes Pirates for Ride

By The Associated Press

BATAVIA—A "Trojan Horse" afloat spelled defeat to at least one pirate band in waters near Soerabaja, a Royal Netherlands Navy announcement said.

The pirates had been attacking native prahus, then hiding when naval patrol vessels appeared. The Navy then manned one of the native craft with armed Dutch sailors. Pirates boarded the craft and after a "short struggle" were captured, the announcement said. The marauders suffered "a few casualties; the Dutch sailors suffered no losses," the Navy's statement declared.

Hong Kong Bans Back Seat Riders On Its Bicycles

By The Associated Press

HONG KONG—A government order has forbidden one of Hong Kong's most widespread but least popular forms of transportation, pillion riding on bicycles.

About 2,000 cyclists are screaming who put pads on the rear fenders and have been making a living hauling passengers in this transportation-hungry city, but the decree stands.

More than 1,000,000 persons live in overcrowded Hong Kong, which has only 10 to 15 buses. To take care of the overflow, there are bicycles, tricycles, rickshaws, pullbikes and even sedan chairs. Only the pillion type has been banned, but this apparent discrimination is unofficially explained by these reasons:

Some cyclists have made a practice of robbing their passengers, and vice versa. Most bicycles do not have lights nor even bells. Cyclists operated at breakneck speed to increase their fares.

Anyone can rent a bicycle for about $1.25 U. S. a day and could make at least $5 U. S. in fares, and it seemed that most people who went into the business never had bothered to learn how to ride. The resulting confusion in traffic was wonderful.

LION IS GOAT

By The Associated Press

JOHNNESBURG, South Africa—A mountain goat at the Johannesburg Zoo leaped a wall into the lion enclosure. Satan, a maneless lion, began to stalk the goat. But Satan in captivity had lost his native agility. The goat was too quick for him but, dashing about in panic, fell from the perpendicular rock face separating the lions from the public. Injured, the goat was carried back to its own quarters, while Satan lashed his tail in chagrin.

HELD FOR ROBBERY. Sheriff W. R. Cook of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., is shown two men identified by Negro patrolmen who arrested them in Clinton, S. C., as Leo Anthony Sisk (left), 19, of Kankakee, Ill., and John W. McCluney (right), 21, of Memphis, Tenn. Both were returned to Florida to face charges in connection with robbery of couple shot and killed Dec. 6. Miami Beach and Ft. Lauderdale police have found shot to death last week.

FIND ERRORS IN SEWER BID

Clinton Street Construction Project Will Be Re-advertised.

Safety-Service Director E. O. Culp said today two low bids received on the Clinton street sewer contained discrepancies and the project will be readvertised.

Five bids were received last week, he said, but the low bid, $37,117.26, from George A. Stein of Circleville, calculated cost of a certain process as $5, whereas the bidder apparently meant $50 a foot, since cost of such an operation would be about $2,000. The next lowest bid, $38,029.50, from Continental Construction Co. of Youngstown, contained a similar error, the safety-service director said. The bids would still have been low if the item had been computed properly.

The board of control, composed of the safety-service director, Mayor Harry L. Bowser and City Solicitor Edwin B. Spink met Thursday and denied against awarding the bid at the figure offered.

Culp said the project will be advertised and bids probably received on No. 4. Work on the project will probably start in November and the part from West Center street to a point just past Bryan avenue completed by the end of the year. The entire project is scheduled to be completed by June 30.

Other bids received were Henry P. Drake of Marion, $37,430.25; G. K. Kinzinger of Marion, $39,226.75; and Dix Construction Co. of Baker Heights, $39,915.80.

QUIZZED ON NEGLECTED TOTS. Standing in a Chicago court, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Winters are shown as authorities questioned them about five children who allegedly were found in their mansion some living in filth. The youngsters, ranging in age from seven months to four years, had been mistreated for four days, according to police. Dr. Winters said he had been given the children by a woman doctor whom he knew.

STRIKE HALTS ALL GOODYEAR OPERATION

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Oct. 19—All the nation was halted at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. today by a spreading strike started when the company rejected time allowed in a rubber mixing operation.

Company and union officials said at least 7,000 of the concern's 15,000 workers were idle in the dispute that began Thursday when two Banbury (mixing) machine operators quit in protest against the new schedule.

C. Y. Wheeler, local president of the CIO United Rubber Workers, said the union had requested the lifting of a week suspension of the two workers and negotiation of the grievance.

The company, however, refused to enter negotiation until the strike was ended.

The strike began in Plant No. 1 where Wheeler said Goodyear had cut Banbury operations from five to 2¾ minutes or one job and from six to five minutes on two others.

Later the dispute spread to the No. 2 plant forcing it to halt operations.

Tire production also was stopped at Goodyear's Topeka, Kan., plant when employes quit in protest against reduction of twenty tire mixers in truck and tractor tire divisions from six to five days.

INSPECT MARION PLANT

David McFarland chief of the meat branch of UNRRA, Washington, D. C., John Robinson, plant manager of the Stewart F. Shields Inc. of Saskatoon, Canada, and Warren R. Czech Government Seen Appeasing U. S.

By The Associated Press

PRAGUE, Oct. 19—Rumors of possible government changes to appease the United States' spread today to Czechoslovakia, shaken by suspension of American credits of which it had received a two-year, $1,440,000,000 post-war reconstruction program.

A report that the Communist secretary of state for foreign affairs, Vlado Clementis, might resign drew an emphatic denial from a foreign office spokesman yesterday even as the cabinet deliberated until a late hour.

The state department announced in Washington Wednesday that it had broken off negotiations for a $50,000,000 export-import bank loan to Czechoslovakia and stopped the remaining $40,000,000 of a $50,000,000 credit to buy surplus U. S. army goods.

CHESTER WITT FINED ON FIREARMS CHARGE

Indictment's Robbery Count Is Dismissed.

Chester Witt, 38, of 474½ Oak street was fined $100 and placed on probation for one year by Common Pleas Court Judge Paul D. Smith this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing firearms without a license.

The charge was the second count of an indictment brought against Witt by the grand jury in a recent session. The first count of the indictment, robbery, was dismissed.

Witt was arrested several weeks ago, accused of stabbing an Walter Cranston Jr., 21, of 430 Sorrento avenue near the Quaker Oats plant on West Center street and appropriating Cranston's girl companion. He did not obtain any money from Cranston, according to police reports.

To be arrested with Witt after the girl was reported leaving the car in the downtown area early in the morning a few hours after the alleged abduction.

Inspection Held By Spanish War Groups

Department officers made the inspection of Marion Camp No. 61 United Spanish War Veterans and Betsy Ross Auxiliary No. 14 Friday afternoon and night at the joint organizations' meeting and luncheon and annual banquet. The two organizations met for dinner and a social hour in the evening. Mrs. Maude Truesdale, department secretary and Mrs. Nora Callahan, department treasurer, of Warren came to Marion for inspection of Betsy Ross auxiliary at a regular meeting yesterday afternoon, and last evening Earnest E. Sykes of Belle Center, junior vice commander of the Department of Ohio United Spanish War Veterans, inspected the camp. Both meetings were held at the Legion Dugout.

Mrs. Mercedes Byrnes, president, presided for the auxiliary meeting and the inspection was conducted by Mrs. Truesdale who gave the members a grade of "excellent." A contribution of $10 was made to the Marion Community Foundation's financial campaign and $10 also was contributed to the General Wood Memorial Union, sponsored by the national auxiliary. The goal is $50,000 to wage a fight against leprosy. The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Mary Harper. Seven members attended a meeting of auxiliaries in District No. 3 at Lima Thursday and at that time Mrs. Dolly Anthony was appointed conductress of the district group. Attending were Mrs. Anthony, Mrs. Emma Campbell, Mrs. Mabel Poole, Mrs. Ellen Poland, Mrs. Hattie Richards, Mrs. Ida Longshore and Mrs. Emma Bendley. Mrs. Hattie Richards won the award for the afternoon. Announcement was made of a card party open to the public to be held following the regular meeting of the auxiliary Nov. 21.

Vice Commander Sykes commended the veterans on their year's work and paid them a high compliment on their membership and attendance. He told of progress made in development of the United Spanish War Veterans Memorial highway now reaching from Michigan to Atlanta, Ga. John Work, commander of the camp, presided for the meeting. Informal talks were given by Dr. C. J. Bonecutter of Belle Center and several members.

Guests included Vice Commander Sykes and Mrs. Sykes, Dr. Bonecutter and State Senator David A. Lizzett and Mrs. Lizzett of Belle Center.

Hostesses for the supper were members of the auxiliary. Tables were centered with bouquets of colorful flowers and the invocation was spoken by Mrs. Hattie Richards.

Stutterers Try Too Hard, Speech Expert Declares

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, O., Oct. 19—A speech expert declared today that a difficulty of the stutterer is that he "tries too hard to talk too well to please too many people too much."

Stuttering probably can be best understood as learned behavior, Dr. Wendell Johnson, director of the speech clinic at the University of Iowa, said at the conference of the Ohio Association of Speech and Hearing Therapy at Ohio university.

"The child," he explained, "learns to be afraid that he will have difficulty in speaking and that his listeners will react unfavorably if he does." The result, he added, is a conflict between a powerful desire to speak and an impulse to stop speaking because of his fear that he will stutter.

The family, teachers and friends of the stutterer, Dr. Johnson advised, should adopt the attitude that he is under no obligation whatever to speak fluently.

London Newspapers Comment on Byrnes

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 19—London's morning papers devoted lengthy front page coverage today to U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes' report in Washington last night on the Paris peace conference.

The Daily Mail printed the speech under a banner headline reading "U. S. Makes Give-and-Take Appeal to Moscow."

Other headlines included:

Daily Graphic—"Byrnes Hits Out at Russia."

Times—"Mr. Byrnes Reply to Soviet Attacks—Disturbed by Continued Tension."

Daily Herald—"Byrnes Is Puzzled by Russia."

Daily Express—"Byrnes: I Will Be Firm with the Russians."

News Chronicle: "Tension Between U. S. and Russia Continuing."

The conservative Daily Graphic, the only paper yet to editorialize on the address, commented that Byrnes said "what many people in this country, as well as in America, have been thinking for some time," and added, "it was necessary that someone should say this."

"Black Beauty" On Ohio Screen

Outstanding Classic, Read by Millions, Now Filmed; To End Monday.

The best selling classic of all time, "Black Beauty," is now playing through Monday at the Ohio theater and co-stars Mona Freeman and Richard Denning. Included in the supporting cast are Evelyn Ankers, Charles Evans, J. M. Kerrigan, Moyna Macgill and Terry Kilburn.

Set against the background of the beautiful English countryside during the closing years of the last century, the picture tells the absorbing story of a high-spirited girl and her love for her horse. Mona Freeman plays Anne, a girl who would rather ride horses than attend finishing school, and who becomes the owner of Black Beauty. The original novel, "Black Beauty," was written in 1877 by Anna Sewell, whose life centered around the horses which she owned.

A new March of Time film, "Is Everybody Happy?" will be shown with the feature picture. This added attraction is full of good old American entertainment for the entire family.

"Cloak and Dagger," an exciting and suspenseful story of romance and adventure, stars Gary Cooper, Lilli Palmer and Robert Alda. It is scheduled to open Tuesday at the Ohio for seven days.

Gary Cooper is starred as Alvah Jesper, a mild-mannered professor at an Eastern university, who is suddenly required to engage in a secret detective operation which involves many dangerous risks against an unseen antagonist. This dangerous task involves Jesper in an immediate search for Katerin Lodor, but before long he stumbles upon cold-blooded murder.

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello Picture Coming To Palace

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are co-starred in the hilarious comedy film the seventeenth joint motion picture to their credit, "The Time of Their Lives," which will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace theater. Other leading roles are played by Marjorie Reynolds, Binnie Barnes and John Shelton.

In this original screenplay, Abbott and Costello play dual roles, Costello as himself and his ghost, and Abbott as himself and his great, great grandfather. Costello, plays Horatio Prim, and Marjorie Reynolds, who is cast as Melody Allen, portray Colonial sweethearts. When they are mistakenly shot by George Washington's soldiers, they are condemned to a ghostly existence for 166 years.

When the old homestead where they are confined is restored and people move in, the psychic maid feels the place is haunted and later helps get in touch with the ghosts, who, of course, are Melody and Horatio. The haunting proceeds with the two ghosts frightening members of the household. The ghosts in turn are scared by the modern electrical household appliances.

Added features will include a short, "Jasper's Derby," the latest news, and "Tiny Terrors of Timberlands."

Wednesday only, in person on the stage, will be Saxie Dowell and his orchestra, now on a personal appearance tour. The screen billing will be a movie mystery, "Crime Doctor's Manhunt."

A double feature will be shown Thursday through Saturday. It will be Janet Blair and Glenn Ford in "Gallant Journey" plus "So Dark the Night" with Steven Geray and Micheline Cheirel.

The former picture is the life story of John J. Montgomery, who was constantly obsessed with the desire to fly, and of his girl, Regina Cleary, who finally became his wife. It relates how she stood by him through his greatest trials and darkest hours, giving him the encouragement and support he needed to attain the goal of his dreams.

"So Dark the Night" tells the thrilling story of a man whose mind disappeared in a subnormal world, and drove him to unspeakable crimes of murder.

1946 Follies on Marion Bill

Musical Comedy with Star-Studded Cast To Show Sunday and Monday.

A musical production without a story and a murder tale will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion theater. They are "Ziegfeld Follies of 1946" headed by an all star cast including Fred Astaire, Lucille Ball, Fanny Brice, Judy Garland, and Esther Williams, and "Decoy" with Jean Gillie and Edward Norris.

Filmed in technicolor, the former is a film of drama and dancing with a star studded cast. The latter is the story of a money crazy girl who soon learns that her wild career of murder means doom for herself.

"Prison without Bars" starring Corinne Luchaire, Edna Best, Barry Barnes and Mary Morris, and "City Without Men" starring Linda Darnell and Michael Duane will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday.

In the latter, Linda Darnell appears as a young school teacher whose fiancee is falsely accused and sent to prison. She then joins him in the prison town where the wives and sweethearts of innocent men and guilty come to wait for them.

Thursday and Friday, "Roll on Texas Moon" starring Roy Rogers, and "Chumps at Oxford" with Laurel and Hardy will be shown.

The traditional fued between cattlemen and sheepmen provides the background for the former picture, a musical Western. Roy Rogers is called to a small western town to prevent the outbreak of range war between these two groups.

HARDING PRESIDENTS HUMBLED 31-6 BY FINDLAY TROJANS

Two Early Breaks Demoralize Prexies As Visitors Triumph

By GEORGE ROEST

A pair of breaks demoralized Harding's gridders as they dropped a 31 to 6 decision to a surprisingly well geared Findlay eleven before a crowd of approximately 2,800.

The first blow to Harding came when Marion left half Howard Tillis after a 21-yard runback of the kickoff fumbled, Findlay recovering on the Marion 33 and using a huddle on the scrimmage line calculated to throw the defensive team off balance, drove to the three from where quarterback Howard Yawberg threw himself over the goal line unassisted by the rest of the Findlay team except Swisher the center.

Expecting the Trojans to move back into position from their pow wow to the left of the ball, the Prexies were caught napping, Yawberg's placement split the uprights.

Pass Intercepted

In the second quarter Rea passed to Andrews for a gain to the 39 from the 20, however, a clipping penalty put Marion back on their own 12 and Rea's second attempted pass was intercepted by Guard Art Gilts who scooted the necessary dozen and a half yards for the score.

Findlay's final tally in the first half came when Dan Smith, lefthalf, tossed a pass to Yawberg from the 19 that was caught between the five and the goal and carried to pay dirt.

Findlay scored in the third quarter when after getting to the 10 from the 36, where a Harding fumble was recovered, Smith went around right end and cut back.

A substitute back, Harris, scored for the Trojans in the last period on a 14-yard run.

Marion Scores

Marion's principle achievement was making their first score since the opener at Mansfield. Driving from their own 41, a pass Rea to Phillians from the five resulted in the score. Most of the Findlay eleven playing at the time were reserves.

Harding also showed better in the statistics department gaining a net yardage of 86 yards rushing and 51 passing. Harding's total yardage was boosted by a 29-yard run by Howard Tillis, and a 26-yard jaunt by Jim Hill. Net yardage made by the victors was 143 rushing and they gained 79 yards via the airways. Of the 16 passes attempted by Harding five were completed and only two were intercepted, one with fatal results. Findlay completed five of an attempted 10 and one found its way into the hands of a Prexie receiver.

Winning the toss, Harding received, Findlay defending the north goal. Swisher kicked to Tillis on the 12 for a runback to the 33 where his fumble was recovered by a Trojan. Smith gained four in two tries and tossed an incomplete pass. Roberts on runs of 6, 13, and nine yards got to the Marion three. Romer and Smith picked up half a yard and Yawberg scored unassisted. Yawberg converted.

Hill Runs Ball Back

Hill ran Smith's kickoff seven yards to the 37. Tillis lost the three gained by Hill and got five to the 42. On fourth down Tillis booted one 34 yards. Roberts got two and 12, a penalty to the Findlay 12 cancelling the large gain. Romers pass was incomplete. With the third down and 23 yards to go Yawberg punted to the Marion 32, Harding declining a penalty and taking the ball.

Running from under center, Rea made 12 and a first down. Tillis made two and lost one. Huddle quick-kicked to the Trojan 38. Smith recovered Robert's fumble for a three yard loss. Don Zeisler nailed Smith for another three. Romers pass was incomplete. Yawberg kicked to Tillis on the 34. Marion was off-side and Coss lost seven attempting to pass as the quarter ended.

A lateral, Coss to Richie, was fumbled, Gilts recovering for Findlay on the Presidents' 29. Roberts lost two. Lawthers on a reverse got to the 20 Marion gaining the ball on downs.

Rea's pass to Andrews netted the Chief Executives 19 yards but a clipping penalty forced Marion back to their own 12. Rea's pass intended for Phillians was incomplete and attempting another pass Gilts intercepted on the 18 eluding Prexie tacklers to score. Yawberg's attempted conversion failed.

Tillis Makes 16

Tillis receiving Yawberg's kickoff, made a 16-yard runback to the Prexie 41. Bradfute recovered Huddle's fumble on the Prexie 44. Three attempts gave the Trojans a minus three. Yawberg punted to Cline on the six for a two-yard runback. Marion was penalized to the one. Huddle kicked to Smith on the 34 for a runback to the 23. Roberts in two tries got to the Chief Executives 11. Roberts fumbling momentarily was downed for an eight yard loss by Phillians. A pass, Smith to Yawberg, in the right flat resulted in the score. Yawberg's second attempted placement was short.

Harding put the ball in play on the 37 after Rea's 12-yard runback. Tillis got five. Rea's pass was incomplete. Bishop got nothing. Tillis punted to Roberts on the 25 for a run to the 35. Roberts attempted a pass which was snared by Prexie right half Hill on the 45 and run to the Trojan's 32.

On his third attempted pass, Rea connected with Peadon for 14 and a five yard penalty for too many times out put Harding on the 13. Still with their passing attack in full gear, Rea attempted three more passes the last complete to Peadon once more to the six. Rea lost one. Harding was penalized to the 12 for too many time outs. Coss sent in to relieve Rea, attempted a pass.

Penalized to 43

A Harding player was caught using his fist illegally and Marion was penalized to their own 43. Coss to Bishop was ruled interference, the Prexies gaining four and an automatic first down. Coss and Rea attempted passes which were incomplete. Rea passed to Phillians on the Findlay 43 and the half ended.

Clarence Smith who started at left end for the Prexies got off a kick to Webb on the 41. Smith and Roberts making three and 14 got to the President's 41. Roberts got eight.

Smith running 17 and six yards got to the Prexie 9. Smith combined with Kimmell to put the ball on the three. Smith fumbled, Marion taking over on the four. Rea got six, Hill got three. Rea picked up a first down on the 15 preceding Tillis's 29-yard run to the 44.

Tillis lost one. Rea lateraled to Hill who had lateraled back, Fassett recovering on the 36. Fassett took Smith's pass on the 20, running to the eight. Kimmell got to the two. On a reverse Roberts lost to the 10. Smith's pass was incomplete. Roberts made the score. Yawberg's attempted placement was blocked.

Bishop received Yawber's kick on the 25 getting to the 34 before being stopped. Rea's pass was intercepted on the 50 by Roberts.

Yawberg punted, after three attempts netted the Trojans only five yards, to Tillis on the 18. Don Johnson, sophomore quarterback, lost five and four and attempted a pass to Tillis. Johnson punted to Harris on the 50 for a six yard runback and the quarter ended.

Findlay was penalized 15 for the illegal use of hands. Harris got to his own 47. Cortney got five making it third and ten. Yawberg kicked out on the six. Bishop lost four, Johnson, kicking on third down, booted one to Roberts on the Marion 30 for a nine yard runback. Harris passed to Pampel on the 14. Harris went over for the score.

Rea made a 15 yard runback to the 41. In a series of plays including a 26 yard run by Hill and an off-side penalty against Findlay and two against Harding, climaxed by the five yard pass Rea to Phillians, netted the Prexies their first touchdown in five contests. Bob Ralston attempted the placement which was blocked.

Findlay was forced to punt and Rea connected to Phillians for seven to the Trojan 44 as the game ended.

Harding's 90 piece band and the ten cheerleaders combined during the half to give an impressive performance.

OWU COACH HAS TITLES

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 19—George E. Gauthier, Ohio Wesleyan university's director of athlethics, has two new titles to carry with him to Oberlin today when his Battling Bishops face Oberlin's Yeomen. He was re-elected president of the Ohio Track Coaches association for the coming year at a meeting of the group last Sunday. Then Kiwanis club, at its convention in Columbus, picked "Little G" as lieutenant governor for the fifth district for the coming year.

OSU STADIUM TO GET CAPACITY CROWD

75,000 Expected To Jam Bowl for Purdue Tilt.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 19—Ohio State and Purdue meet on the gridiron here today and, although their records show only two victories in seven games, the contest is expected to fill Ohio stadium like it's never been filled before.

Ohio State officials said more than 75,000 ticket holders—most of them with ducats purchased before the season's start—would sit in on the clash, offering the first capacity-crowd test of a new seating arrangement, wherein seats were narrowed by two inches to increase the stadium capacity by some 3,000.

Both Ohio State, with one victory and one tie in three games, and Purdue, with one win in four, were seeking their first Western conference victory. The Bucks were odds-on favorites.

Purdue entered the fray with at least eight key players listed as injured and of doubtful status.

Probable lineups:

Purdue	Pos.	Ohio State
Heck	L	Souders
Penca	LT	Amling
Yarwegen	LG	Claudio
Krebs	C	Adamle
O'Reilly	RG	Dean
Eisenling	RT	Caurl

(Kickoff, 2 p. m.).

POSTPONED ST. MARY TILT BOOKED TONIGHT

The St. Mary-Richwood contest which was to be played last night was postponed until tonight because of adverse weather.

This is to be the dedication game for the new Richwood stadium and it is hoped that the conditions tonight will be such as to permit the pre-game ceremonies to be held.

St. Mary is the slight favorite in this contest and barring unforseen occurrances should gain a victory. The dedication services will start at 7:30 p. m. and the kickoff is scheduled for 8:15.

The principal speaker for the occasion will be D. E. McFarland, Delaware county school superintendent.

GALION BEATEN 19-7 AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—The Upper Sandusky Rams scored two touchdowns on long runs in the opening period and followed with a 90 yard six pointer in the final quarter to ship the Galion Orangemen before a crowd of 2,500 for their fourth win here last night 19 to 7.

Busick, Ram right half, ran 70 yards to pay dirt on the second play of the game. In the same period Vent, Upper right half, galloped 60 yards for another score. The Rams converted on a pass Rife to Mavis. A Galion march was stopped when Mason intercepted a pass. The Orangemen were held one inch short of a score in the first quarter after a drive with Tuscan doing most of the ball toting.

Galion tallied a lone touchdown in the third stanza when Ramsey carried the ball to the eight yard line and a pass from Tuscan to Eichler was complete over the goal line. Frederick plunged for the conversion.

The Rams uncorked another long run for a TD in the fourth period. After Mason intercepted a Galion pass on the Upper 10, Vent made a 90 yard run for a score.

Upper made 11 first downs to 6 for Galion but it chiefly was a story of long runs for the Rams. It was band night for both schools. The game was a Northern Ohio league affair and the fourth win for the Rams.

Lineup:

Upper	Pos	Galion
Wilson	LE	L. Heskett
Denman	LT	Ritter (C)
McAllister	LG	Britt
Bennett	C	J. Vent one
Ritterspach	RG	D. Heskett
Brown	RT	Beck
Mavis	RE	Eichler
Mason	QB	Frederick
Vent	LH	Tuscan
Busick	RH	Rogers
Rife (C)	FB	Ramsey

Score by quarters:

Upper	13	0	0	6—19
Galion	0	0	7	0— 7

Touchdowns—Busick, Vent 2 for Upper; Eichler for Galion. Conversions—Mavis, Frederick.

Marion Drivers Again To Race at Marysville

The Buckeye Speedways are once again sponsoring big car races at the Union County fairgrounds in Marysville tomorrow afternoon. The field will include cars driven by Marion's Bob Simpson and Frank Luptow who fell out of last week's feature race. Simpson last week was behind the wheel of the McCurdy Riley because of engine trouble developing in the Dreyer. He will probably pilot the Dreyer in tomorrow's events.

Harry King, of South Bend, winner of last week's Marysville sweepsteaks, will be favored with Luptow who posted the fastest time last Sunday. Red Bales, of Cleveland, second place winner last week also rated as one of the leading contenders along with Simpson.

The program will be along the same order as last weeks with six racing events. Qualifying trials will start at 12 and the races start at 2 p. m.

Yankees Set Gate Record As Baseball Draws 18,000,000

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 — More than 18,000,000 fans paid their way into major league baseball parks during 1946 with the New York Yankees establishing a new individual record with 2,309,029 spectators, unofficial figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today.

Grand total of both the American and National leagues was 18,612,704, increase of 63 per cent over the 1945 total of 11,375,185.

The American league drew 9,666,421 while the National's turnstiles clicked off 8,946,283. In 1945, the junior loop drew 6,002,366 and the senior, 5,372,819.

Although they wound up in third place, the Yanks mark broke the previous high of 1,485,166 established by the pennant-winning 1929 Chicago Cubs.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, National league runner-up, lured 1,796,155 customers, tops for the circuit. The Detroit Tigers of the American circuit also beat the former Cub mark by drawing 1,722,590 to Briggs stadium.

Ten of the 16 teams drew more than one million paid admissions as compared to five last season and none in 1944.

The Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Browns of the American and the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds of the National were the only teams that failed to break their previous attendance records.

Carey Whips Forest To Remain Unbeaten

Special to The Star

CAREY — Scoring twice in the first quarter Carey kept its record intact by defeating Forest 14 to 6 at Carey. This was the second loss of the season for Forest against one tie and three wins.

Carey scored early in the game on a pass from Fullback Wedge to Right End Strahm from the seven. Yingling ran wide right for the seventh point. Left End Dennison blocked a Forest punt on the 20 and carried the ball over the goal line. Donelson sent the ball sailing through the uprights for the conversion.

Forest scored in the second quarter when Windle snagged a pass from the 20 going into the promised land standing up.

Having already disposed of six obstacles on their path to an undefeated and untied season Carey will play Fremont St. Joseph next week and has games with Kenton and Upper Sandusky coming up.

Lineups:

Old-Time Baseball Figure Stricken

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 19—Baseball lost one of its best known old-time figures yesterday in the death of Jack McCallister, 67, after 50 years in the game.

McCallister, injured seriously attempting to push three boys from the path of an automobile driving through a safety zone last July 20, suffered a relapse last month.

After serving as an assistant to Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians for years, he became a scout, working for the Detroit Tigers, the Boston Red Sox, the Cincinnati Reds, and the Boston Braves with whom he was affiliated at the time of his death.

He managed the Indians in 1927 after Speaker left the club.

In his younger days he played outfield for Hartford in the Eastern league and Binghamton and Albany in the Pony league.

3 FOOTBALL BATTLES HOLD SPORTS BILLING

6 Unbeaten 11's Lay Records on Line Today.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—With the baseball season finally completed, football takes over the country's sports pages today, the spotlight shining on Tennessee-Alabama clash, Texas-Arkansas and Army-Columbia.

The Crimson Tide and the Volunteers, both unbeaten, meet at Knoxville with the winner anticipating little difficulty the rest of the way in winning the Southeastern conference title and a possible bowl invitation.

The West Point Cadets take on Lou Little's unbeaten Lions at Michie stadium in attempting to stretch their consecutive win streak to 23 games and Coach Earl Blaik's Marauders are 20-point favorites.

The Texas Longhorns, second to Army in the national rankings, battle the once-tied Arkansas Razorbacks at Austin, Tex., in its Southwest conference opener.

In the Midwest, the center of attraction again is at Ann Arbor, Mich., where the Wolverines tackle the unbeaten Northwestern Wildcats.

On the Pacific coast, the interest is divided between the U.C.L.A. Bruins-California clash and the Oregon-Washington State engagement.

Notre Dame, which has run roughshod over Illinois, Pittsburgh and Purdue, enjoys a holiday.

Elsewhere around the grid front, the Kansas Jay Hawks put their Big Six claims on the line in a tussle with Nebraska.

Indiana's defending Big Nine champions take on an underdog Iowa eleven at home while Ohio State's Buckeyes tackle a crippled Purdue Boilermaker machine and Wisconsin goes after its second conference win at the expense of Illinois.

Other eastern attractions find Michigan State at Penn State, Syracuse at Holy Cross, St Mary's at Fordham, Yale at Cornell, Dartmouth and Brown at Providence and Rutgers at Princeton.

The University of Detroit secred an upset last night when it came from behind in the last minute and a half of play to score seven points and defeat Tulsa's previously unbeaten Golden Hurricane, 20-14, before 20,200 fans at Detroit.

Maryland won 6-0 over V.P.I. and Temple scored its first win of the year by nosing out West Virginia, 6-0.

LA RUE BOWS SECOND TIME TO CLYDE SIX

Special to The Star

LARUE—A small LaRue six-man football team took another walloping from a big sextette from Clyde on the LaRue field yesterday afternoon 51 to 12. Earlier in the year the Clyde outfit defeated the west siders 57 to 12. Wood, elusive halfback from the north, eluded the LaRue tacklers for three touchdowns. Hoffman caught passes for two markers and Burroughs took aerials for two. D. Humberger got loose for the eighth touchdown by the winners.

Lightfoot, driving halfback, swept end for the first LaRue score and Tate a lateral from Gillispie for the other tally. LaRue will tangle with a strong Bloomdale team Thursday afternoon on the home field starting at 3 p. m.

Lineup:

Clyde—51	Pos	LaRue—12
Hoffman	LE	Tate
R. Humberger		Olsen
Burroughs	RE	Gillispie
Burkin	QB	Baldinger
Wood	HB	Lightfoot
D. Humberger	FB	Ledman

Subs: Clyde—Jennings, Stokes, Miller, Duncan, O'Harrow. LaRue—Adams, Wilson, Parker, Leeth, Jones, Buyer.

Bellville Defeats Mt. Gilead 13 to 7

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD—Bellville scored touchdowns in the second and fourth periods against a lone TD in the second stanza by Mt. Gilead to win a closely played football game here yesterday 13 to 7. Mt. Gilead scored in the second quarter with Nelson Campbell carrying the ball. Pete Campbell kicked the conversion. A touchdown by Homer Walker and a conversion by Warner tied the score in the same period.

Bellville broke the tie in the last quarter when Gleason scored. The extra point was missed, but with Mt. Gilead failing to score again the six points were enough.

Lineup:

Bellville	Pos.	Mt. Gilead
Van Wade	LE	Burnell
Ralston	LT	Decker
Fry	LG	Crawford
Lister	C	M. Phillips
Showlecker	RG	Hardman

Army-Columbia Tilt Features Unbeaten 11's

By The Associated Press

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 19—Unbeaten Columbia clashed with unbeaten Army today and Lou Little's Lions were 20-point underdogs.

All-America Fullback Doc Blanchard probably will be relieved of Army punting duties.

Columbia which has won three straight games, was not in top shape.

Cabbies Book Tough Indiana Foe in Game at Ft. Wayne

Another tough opponent has been booked for the Cabbies. Tomorrow Marion's contribution to the ranks of professional football will play in Fort Wayne, Ind., against the St Joe A.C.'s at the municipal oval stadium. The kickoff will be at 2 p. m.

Since the Galion farce, the locals have held only one practice, a short one last night in which the team reviewed past showings and worked on polishing up their game. After the workout the Marion club got Wednesday night it was not advisable to hold any stiff practices. All the Marion players who dressed for the game participated thus giving the complete squad a physical workout.

Roseberry Makes Appearance

Making his first appearance of the season, Max Roseberry, substituting for Schreiber at the right end position, showed promise making the end situation seem much brighter than previously. Bob Richards, who substitutes at the other end, also is showing possibilities.

The setup made in putting Ed Simmons under the center and shifting Nick Cafagno to right half seems to have given the backfield more stability and is paying off in yards gained. The fullbacks Leroy Harvey and Johnny Williams, are proving their wares at cracking the line while Leo Beckman plays well on offense and defense.

The team still does not have a powerful ground attack but its backs are a constant threat and coupled with the stellar line of the Cabmen, the result is a team which makes things tough for the opposition.

Strobel Stands Out

Bob Strobel, Cabbie left guard, was again one of the standouts Wednesday night. His stealing the ball on the Galion eight resulted in putting the Cabbies in position to score the game-winning six-pointer.

Fort Wayne's team, which has been organized for 20 years, lost only one contest last year and is as yet unbeaten this season.

Some of the team will leave tomorrow morning on the 125-mile trip while others left this afternoon.

DEFIANCE SLIPS PAST FINDLAY BY 1 POINT

By The Associated Press

Defiance college kept its string football victory skein unbroken last night, edging a 7 to 6 victory over hard-fighting Findlay.

Muskingum triumpned over Canterbury College of Canterbury, Ind. 33-12. Wilmington went down before Earlham college of Richmond, Ind., 6-13 and Western Reserve and Baldwin Wallace battered each other to a 13-13 tie.

Defiance victory came when Dan Snyder intercepted a flat pass and ran 70 yards to a touchdown. Jefferson, on a pass from Rue converted. Findlay had scored in the opening quarter on Ed Sussersie's two-yard plunge.

Muskingum scored in every quarter with quarterback Turner showing his heels to Canterbury twice, once with a 90-yard run, again for 30 yards and a touchdown.

Western Reserve had the better of it with 21 first downs to eight for Reserve, gaining 245 yards on rushing against 131.

Earlham college spoiled the fine football homecoming in 14 years for Wilmington, on a rain soaked gridiron. Quarterback Marshall Collins scored both times for the Indiana eleven, once from the one yard line after a steady march goalward and again from the four on an off-tackle slash.

Wilmington scored when halfback Bill Ruddeck tossed an 18-yard pass to Joe Baugh in the second quarter.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct 19—College football probably is having its biggest season on record, but there still are some coaches who aren't satisfied with the game that brings in all the dough. . . . The other day Marquette's Frank Murray suggested a requirement of six defensive players on the line to match the seven-man line required for the offense. . . . Another suggestion comes from W. A. Alexander, Georgia Tech's venerable athletic director. He figures the whole rule book should be rewritten to straighten out all the amendments and exceptions and also figures the free substitution rule will be altered because "some coaches seem to be trying to mastermind the game out of existence."

Sports Before Your Eyes

The Boston Garden, which will have a team in the new pro basketball league, a flock of college doubleheaders and over 100 schoolboy games this winter, is feeling the pinch of a referee shortage. . . . Word from Texas, possibly inspired by pessimistic coaches, is that "Texas doesn't have a great team." The same source, however, gives rave notices to Bobby Layne and Spot Collins and adds that the Longhorns clash with Rice, "probably the best-manned team in the entire south" will settle the conference title. We'd still like to see an Army-Texas bowl game.

Quote of the Week

Lou Little: "If we play the way we played in the second half against Navy and in the second half against Yale, there's no reason why Columbia can't beat Army."

Last Minute TD Knots Kenton-Ada at 6 All

Special to The Star

KENTON—The Kenton Wildcats scored a touchdown in the final period after a penalty on fourth down gave them possession of the ball to tie an underdog Ada team here last night 6 to 6. Ada scored a touchdown in the opening stanza after a 55 yard march down the field with Gobin, visiting quarterback, carrying the ball over the goal from the eight yard line.

Again the Ada team carried to the Kenton four yard line in the second period but the Wildcats took the ball on downs. Breaks the Kenton ace, was well bottled up by the fighting Ada defense but he managed to carry over for the lone Kenton score. Both teams missed on conversion attempts.

Lineup.

40,000 See Tennessee Joust with Alabama

By The Associated Press

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19—A homecoming crowd of 40,000 jammed Shields-Watkins field today to see Alabama and Tennessee in a football game promising plenty of gridiron fireworks.

Both teams went into the game undefeated and untied and in good shape physically.

Alabama, Rose Bowl and Southeastern conference champions, ruled a slight favorite.

Tennessee's greatest worry was place-kicking Harry Gilmer, Alabama's top-flight passer. Vol supporters noted the three touchdowns scored against Tennessee this season have been made by aerial assault.

Women Bowlers Meet Out-of-Town Teams

Carroll's Jewelry bowling team, last year's champion, which has been bowling over opposition in the Ladies' All-Star league, is now tasking on out-of-town teams. They bowl twice a month. They recently traveled to Bucyrus to meet a women's team there. Sunday they will take on a Fostoria team at Marion Recreation alleys. A match in Upper Sandusky is also scheduled.

Those on the team are Esta Hire, Georgia Kraner, Esther Stafford, Pearl Snyder, Edna Babcock and Grace Gunder.

War Veteran Opens New Sandwich Shop

Bill Fate, recently discharged veteran, will open a sandwich shop at 768 Davids street today. The store is located in the Oakland theater building. A soda fountain has been installed. The place is named "The Coffee Pot."

Texas Rules Favorite in Arkansas Clash

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 19—The Texas Longhorns rule a three-touchdown favorite over the Arkansas Razorbacks as the two unbeaten teams clash today in the number one football attraction of the southwest.

Some football fans argued that Texas took a physical beating from Oklahoma university last week, that Arkansas is psychologically "up" for this one, that the Razorbacks are generally accepted one of the best-conditioned elevens in the nation.

PROSPECT REBOUNDS TO WHIP CLARIDON

The Prospect six-man football team after suffering a series of injuries and four straight defeats in their first season of play in the abbreviated game, came back yesterday afternoon and defeated Claridon in a Marion county league affair on the losers' field 36 to 14.

Claridon was handicapped by the absence of three regulars, Jim Ruth, Stayner and Pickett. In an earlier game Claridon defeated Prospect 34 to 8 in a night game at Prospect.

Cleveland Hockey Team Looks for Third Victory

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 19—Cleveland's rejuvenated Barons will go after their third win of the season tonight when they take to the ice against the Buffalo Bisons.

Due to injuries received by two regular defensemen, Les Cunningham, veteran Baron player and one of the most potent scoring threats in the American league, will be shifted temporarily to defense duty.

Gordon Davidson is suffering with a chipped bone in his left thumb and may be out for 10 days, while Doug Lane has a broken toe.

In previous starts, Cleveland beat the Philadelphia Rockets 9 to 5 and downed St. Louis' Flyers, 6 to 2.

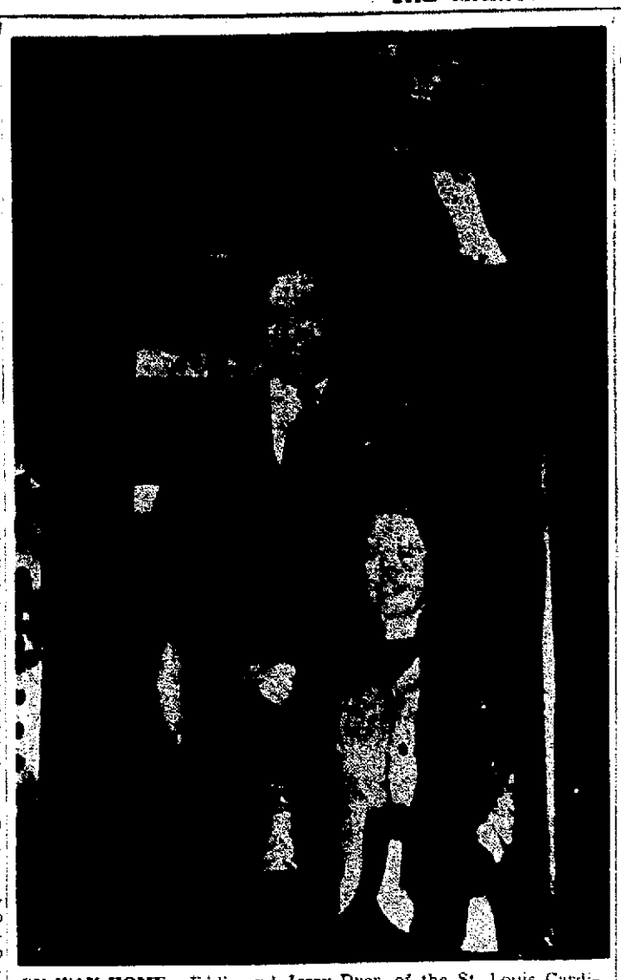
Bucyrus Man To Wed Nurse from Harrod

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 19 — Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Reva McDorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McDorman of Harrod, O., and Ralph F. Baehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baehr of Bucyrus. The wedding will take place Nov. 2 in St. Paul's Lutheran church.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Lima Memorial hospital school of nursing and is employed as industrial nurse in the dispensary at the General Electric Co. plant here. Mr. Baehr is employed at Bucyrus airport.

There has been little, if any, improvement in violin making in 300 years.



ON WAY HOME. Eddie and Jerry Dyer, of the St. Louis Cardinals fame, were met on their arrival home, Houston, Tex., by a welcoming group at whom they waved and smiled.

UAW WORKS ON NEW WAGE BOOST PLANS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 19 — The executive board of the United Auto Workers union worked today on a program of wage increases for half its 800,000 members, with CIO President Philip Murray called into the final planning session.

That the UAW planned to extend its demands for wage boosts and other economic gains to the entire industry was indicated by President Walter Reuther, at the close of the board's session yesterday.

Key to the new program is the union's contract with Chrysler, which contains a clause permitting wage rates to be re-opened for negotiation, providing notice is given within a specified time—and the deadline is today. Similar contracts are held with a number of independents and suppliers.

Contracts with two others of the "big three" manufacturers—General Motors and Ford — do not contain the clause, the GM contract running until April, the Ford contract until May.

However, Reuther remarked in a press conference that "no serious difficulties are anticipated in protecting rights of members who have contracts which do not permit re-opening within 30 to 60 days."

BOY, 15, INJURED IN AUTO-BIKE COLLISION

Robert Rinnert Suffers Concussion in Mishap.

A 15-year-old boy is in City hospital today suffering from a slight brain concussion incurred yesterday at 6:45 p. m. when he was struck by an automobile at East Center and Jefferson streets while riding a bicycle.

He is Robert Rinnert, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rinnert of 785 East Center street. He is a student at Vernon Heights Junior High school.

The boy also suffered a laceration of the back and was X-rayed this morning for possible broken ribs. His condition is not considered serious by hospital attendants, however.

Young Rinnert, while riding his bicycle, collided at the intersection of East Center and Jefferson streets with an automobile driven by William W. King, 33, of 338 East Fairming street, police said. He was taken to City hospital in the Boyd and Uncapher ambulance.

'FRISCO SETS DRIVE TO LAND UN CAPITAL

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 — San Francisco's glowing prospectus for setting up the world peace capital in her environs was ready for presentation today as a counter to New York City's newly launched official propaganda campaign to keep the headquarters of the United Nations here on a permanent basis.

As delegates poured in from 51 nations for the general assembly meeting which opens next Wednesday in Flushing Meadow park, San Francisco's revived hopes of becoming the headquarters some three to five years hence were in the hands of California Attorney General Robert Kenny.

He called a news conference for 4 p. m. as a preliminary to the expected arrival of Gov. Earl Warren of California and Mayor Roger Lapham of San Francisco.

Pot Shots Darken Crawford Co. Towns

By The Associated Press

TIRO, O., Oct. 19—The Crawford county communities of Tiro and Sulphur Springs were darkened for five and a half hours last night after unidentified boys shot insulators off a line of the Ohio Power Company.

An estimated 1,000 inhabitants of the two towns and surrounding area remained without electricity until power company workers found the short circuit and repaired it.

The power failure temporarily interrupted a wedding supper in the Tiro High school building and a banquet at the Odd Fellows hall in Tiro.

Farmers using electric milkers when the current went off at 5:45 p. m had to turn to manual milking.

FIVE CAR ACCIDENT

CHILLICOTHE, O., Oct. 19—A collision involving five automobiles snarled traffic on U. S. route 23 near here yesterday, near the scene of an eight-car tangle earlier this week. Highway patrolmen said there were no injuries in either collision.

SCIENCE STILL HAS A LONG WAY TO GO

DESPITE ALL THEIR PROGRESS, SCIENTISTS ARE ONLY AT THE BEGINNING OF KNOWLEDGE—THERE ARE MANY THOUSANDS OF BASIC THINGS THEY DO NOT UNDERSTAND—FOR EXAMPLE...
HOW DO LIVING THINGS GROW? THERE ARE ONLY FOGGY NOTIONS.
DOES LIFE EXIST OUTSIDE THE EARTH? ANYBODY'S GUESS IS AS GOOD AS SCIENTISTS.
HOW DID THE UNIVERSE BEGIN? SOME THINK IT STARTED WITH EXPLODING ATOMS.
COAL
HOW DOES MATTER CHANGE INTO ENERGY?—SCIENCE STILL DOES NOT HAVE THE BASIC REASON.
WHAT IS GRAVITATION MADE OF? EXACTLY WHAT HAPPENS TO DRAW THINGS TO THE EARTH?
WHAT CAUSES CANCER, BALDNESS, HUNDREDS OF OTHER PHYSICAL CONDITIONS?—MEDICAL MEN ARE STILL GROPING FOR ANSWERS.
WHAT'S WHAT WITH TELEPATHY?—CAN MINDS REALLY COMMUNICATE WITH EACH OTHER WITHOUT TALKING?
HOW CAN WAR BE AVERTED?—SCIENTISTS HAVE PRODUCED HORRIBLE WEAPONS BUT HAVE MADE NO PROGRESS IN ELIMINATING CAUSES OF WAR.

Italy Is Slowly Taking Shape As Republic Nation

By International News Service

ROME, ITALY—It may be considerable time before the Italians become accustomed to thinking of themselves as citizens of a republic. For a little group in the ministry of the interior, however, these are busy days. They are changing the symbols of the monarchy into the garb of dame republic.

One of the first evidences of the transition will be the issue of postage stamps commemorating the birth of the new form of government. Not far behind will be the change of insignias for the police and armed forces and there will soon be issued new currency for the Italian republic.

Prepare for Change

To prepare for the change, the government has called on the nation's poets, musicians, artists, architects and designers to create the new designs from which will be selected the final choices.

Typical of the many changes which will have to be brought about will be the writing of a new national anthem, with monarchic inspired hymns falling into discard, changing all the designs on the nation's mail boxes and the manufacture of a new flag. The latter will be officially deprived of the House of Savoy crown. It may remain just a simple red, white and green tricolor.

However, despite all the changes, in many corners of the land there will still be tiny "kingdoms" where it will be many years before the picture of Victor Emmanuel and his Queen Helen completely disappear. Some of those pictures have been hanging over the same spot for over 45 years.

BACK FROM DEAD; WANTS DAUGHTER. Condemned to die from leukemia by Los Angeles physicians, Mrs. Joseph Homes, 24, took her 5-year-old daughter, Janet, to her ex-husband in Portland, Ore. Unable to make a home for the child, the husband gave her for adoption to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sowinski of Los Angeles. But that was eight months ago. Today Mrs. Homes is discharged from the hospital, and, shown in background, watches her daughter bid a tearful goodby to Mrs. Sowinski after a Los Angeles court awarded the child back to her mother.

How Widow Beat Housing Shortage

By The Associated Press

MT. VERNON, Ky.—Mrs. Lee M. Cooper, 63-year-old widow of Billows, Rockcastle county, whipped the housing shortage largely with her own hands.

She decided on a stone house, and not a little one, at that. Lack of funds didn't hinder her, but inability to get labor did. So Mrs. Cooper picked up stones from adjoining fields and the bluffs surrounding her house site and hauled them to the location herself—500 wagon loads of field stone.

Today there stands her accomplishment—a sturdy 14-room stone home in the little valley on the Rockcastle River midway between Somerset and Lonsdale, Ky.

"I needed a house," said Mrs. Cooper, "and I meant to have one if I had to build it myself."

She doesn't lay claim to doing all the work, though she also dug most of the basement. She hired workers to lay the stone for the walls, to put on the roof and to do some heavy finishing work. She did the rest.

Her total cash outlay was about $2,000 and some observers have estimated the house is easily worth five times that much.

GI Killed at Chicago in Chow Line Mishap

By The Associated Press

DENVER, Oct. 19—One Lowry field soldier was killed and another wounded last night by the accidental discharge from a carbine into a chow line in front of a mess hall.

Capt. William Coleman, Lowry public relations officer, said identity of the dead man is being withheld, pending notification of next of kin.

Pvt. Richard C. Towers, 18, of Memphis, Tenn., suffered a laceration of his right ear, after the bullet had passed through his companion in the chow line.

Pfc. Nicholas Esposito, 18, of Sandusky, O., is being held by military police, pending further investigation of the shooting by the provost marshal's office.

Coleman gave this account of the mishap:

Esposito was going off duty as a prison guard, and was walking toward the arsenal to surrender his carbine. When he was about 300 feet from the mess hall, his gun discharged. He continued on to the arsenal, surrendering his gun, and then noticed the commotion in the chow line. Upon learning that two had been hit by a bullet, he reported his gun had been accidentally discharged.

Milking Machine for Guinea Pigs

By The Associated Press

ITHACA, N. Y.—A miniature milking machine for use on guinea pigs is the latest addition to the dairy research laboratory at Cornell university.

Built by Prof. B. L. Herrington, the machine, patterned after the large dairy milkers, is so small that all the necessary parts are linked together on a board about 18x6 inches.

Milk is extracted by the suction process into a "milk can," which, in the case of a guinea pig, is a small glass container.

Milking a guinea pig is a two-man job. Prof. H. H. Williams usually holds the small animal while Prof. Herrington operates the equipment.

Prof. Herrington's work has aroused considerable interest, and there's usually an audience on hand when "milking time" rolls around.

"It's almost got to the point where I think I'll have to charge admission," he commented.

Town in Utah Wants To Move To Nevada

By The Associated Press

WENDOVER, Utah—Wendover—lying two-thirds in Utah and one-third in Nevada on a sizzling western desert—wants to go Nevada all the way.

Lester Giffen, chairman of the Wendover Development association, said he has sought to confer with Gov. Herbert B. Maw of Utah regarding a shift of the boundary eastward.

Giffen said most Wendover residents feel they are ignored by the rest of the state. He admitted, also, that the more liberal liquor and gambling laws of Nevada are an attraction.

Another thing—tourists don't have to bother with sales taxes on things they buy in the Nevada side of town as they do in the Utah section.

READY FOR ECLIPSE FANS

By The Associated Press

RIO DE JANEIRO—Plans are being made to welcome a group of British scientists here next May to observe an eclipse of the sun. Minister of Education Souza Campos is in charge of arrangements for the arrival of the British group. The scientists expect to observe the eclipse on May 20, 1947, from Pirapora in the state of Minas Gerais. Dr. J. A. Carroll of Cambridge university will head the visiting group who will be joined by officials of the National Observatory of Sao Paulo.

The work for which bids are invited consists of the construction of approximately 1274 linear feet of 4" to 24" diameter vitrified shale pipe sewers and approximately 1468 linear feet of 24" to 42" diameter reinforced concrete pipe sewers, together with manholes, catch basins, concrete retaining walls, repaving and other appurtenant work.

Copies of the advertisement, information for bidders, estimated quantities, contract, specifications, performance bond are on file in the office of the City Engineer and available for inspection by prospective bidders.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same, and be accompanied by a certified check on a seven banks in the sum of $500.00 made payable to the order of The Safety-Service Director of the City of Marion, Ohio, as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. The check shall be forfeited if the said bidder fails to enter into a contract with the City of Marion, Ohio, and to furnish the required bond within fifteen days after notice of acceptance of his bid, if the award is made to said bidder. Bidders are required to use the printed forms which will be furnished on application.

Bids for labor and material must be separate and sealed in envelopes plainly marked "Bids for Clinton Street sanitary and storm water sewers."

A performance bond of 50% of the amount of the contract, with a satisfactory corporate surety, will be required for the faithful performance of the work.

Should any bid be rejected, the accompanying check will be returned to the bidder forthwith, and should any bid be accepted, the check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract upon demand therefore.

The right is reserved by the City of Marion, Ohio, to reject any or all bids.

SLIM TRADE FOILS EARLY STOCK RALLY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 — The stock market today tried for several recoveries but most leaders failed to attract worthwhile support and dealings were among the smallest for the past year or so.

The ticker tape loafed after a fairly active opening. While minor advances persisted at the close, declines of fractions to a point or so were widely distributed. Numerous pivotals were unchanged. Transfers for the short session ran to around 350,000 shares.

Recently slumping commodities, it was suggested, served to accentuate selective and investment demand. In line with this unsettled trend, the nation's principal stock exchanges announced suspension of trading for the day following a slump in the futures price of that staple of about $25 a bale since last Tuesday. Some share investors trimmed accounts or laid aside to await further effects of price decontrols on business and industry.

Another climb of industrial inventories, it was said, was viewed by analysts as a warning factor. The foreign picture, as painted by Secretary Byrnes, also was thought to have inspired a certain amount of conservatism in commission houses. Motors had to contend with the move of automotive union to reopen wage contracts with important producers.

In the backward shift were Bethlehem, Chrysler, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Westinghouse Electric, N. Y. Central, Southern Railway, Du Pont and Allied Chemical. Resisting were Texas Co., Chesapeake and Ohio, Philip Morris, Air Reduction.

Trends were narrow. At Chicago wheat futures dropped the day's limit of 5 cents a bushel and other grains skidded.

2 MEN FINED, SENTENCED ON ASSAULT CHARGES

Given Penalty of $100 and 30 Days in Workhouse.

Two Marion men were fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse today in municipal court when they pleaded guilty to charges of assault and battery.

They are Roy Graybill, 28, of 710 Cottage street, and Delbert Saunders, 34, of near Prospect.

The charges were filed by E. M. Moore of 241 Windsor street. Moore charged that the men assaulted him in a restaurant on West Center street Thursday, pertaining him to get into a car and then drove him to the edge of town where they beat him up. They believed he had information concerning the estranged wife of one of them, he said.

WHERE HIGH NAZIS WILL SERVE SENTENCES. Here is a general view of Spandau Prison, located in the British zone in Berlin, where, according to announcement by the Allied Commandatura, the seven Nazis who escaped death sentence at the Nuremberg trial will serve their terms of imprisonment. The prison is easy to guard because of its small size.

OH, MIN!!! WHERE'D YOU STORE MY OLD SHOTGUN?

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

My father turned to me after he had given his altered directions to Gus and Joe.

"I am going over to the other car now," he said. "Please stay here with the boys until I return. I'll send that other police officer over here with instructions to wait here until I come back. Now, if you'll come with me, please."

He beckoned to the genuine officer who had sat between Gus and Joe, and the man climbed down with alacrity.

As he walked away with my father, Junior and Roderick looked over at me with eyes fairly dancing with repressed excitement. With compassion I measured the distance between our car and the retreating men.

"It's safe to talk now," I told them, smiling. "If you keep your voices lowered. You're going to burst if you keep quiet any longer."

"We won't raise our voices above a whisper," Junior promised.

"That isn't necessary," I told them, smiling, with my voice muted, but not whispering. "We're far enough away so nobody possibly can hear us, and we can change the subject quickly and be talking about casual things if anyone comes near us."

"This is the biggest thing that ever happened to us," Junior said, "and we can't help getting excited about it. Did you get a good look at Uncle Jack? Wasn't his disguise wonderful?"

"Indeed it was," I told them heartily. "I never would have known him."

"And, do you know, he let us help him!" my son said with exclamation points after every word. "You know, even though the uniform and cap were a help, it's the way he changed his face, and made his hair red instead of brown, with grey in it, that did the job. And he let us help him!" he replied ecstatically.

"I imagine he was very glad for your help," I said.

"He said he was," Roderick answered quickly, taking up the saga. "He had us hold the mirror at just the right angle while he was making up his face, and we helped fasten that wig of red hair so none of his own from underneath would show. He sure did a swell job, and he told us that he couldn't have done it by himself—that we helped him no end."

Will Get Wigs

"And," Junior struck in, trying to make his voice casual, but failing woefully, "that he will teach us how to make up our faces the way he did, and will get us some wigs. Oh! Boy! will we go across town the next masquerade party!"

"We'll 'mow 'em down!'" Roderick quoted with a nervous laugh, and then Junior turned to me with a question.

"Do these other guards of Dad's know that Uncle Jack is a phony?"

"They know he isn't a policeman," I said, "but, then, the other man isn't a policeman, either, but one of your grandfather's guards dressed like one, so the Brixtons wouldn't notice Uncle Jack especially.

"These guards of your grandfather's," I went on, "are used to being disguised for various purposes, and to seeing passengers in disguise. The one thing against which your grandfather is guarding on this occasion is the discovery of Uncle Jack behind this particular disguise. That is why he is taking so many precautions."

Activities At Car

The eyes of the boys were trying to divide their attention between me and the activities at the other car. But I had not finished my last sentence before the car won.

"Look! Mums!" Junior said. "They're carrying the stretcher into the house. Uncle Harry isn't helping carry it. He's gone ahead, and is showing them where to go. I wonder where Jim and Katie are? They usually are in the front row in party clothes."

"Probably getting something to eat inside," I said, and the boys gave a suppressed war whoop, which broke off abruptly as we saw my father and Jack walking swiftly toward us. The other five guards and drivers had gone into the house with the stretcher.

"Pipe down," Junior said. "They look as if they were in a hurry."

There are towns of Xerxes in Kentucky, Alexanders in at least 12 states, a Caesar in Texas and Napoleons in five or more states.

"Home" is the name of places in Colorado, Kansas, Oregon and Pennsylvania.
